

Voters of Four States Travel To Polls Today In Primaries

Ohio in Limelight as Result of Bitter Political Fights

IDAHO OFFERS TEST New Deal Watches Races Of Three Pro-Roosevelt Senators

By the Associated Press

Today's primaries at a glance:

Ohio—Senator Robert J. Bulkley, recipient of presidential praise, opposed for Democratic renomination by former Governor George White; Robert A. Taft, son of former president, and Judge Arthur H. Day contest Republican senatorial nomination; Governor Martin L. Davey seeks Democratic nomination; three Democratic congressional races involve New Deal issues.

Arkansas—Senator Hattie Caraway asks Democratic renomination as Roosevelt supporter; Representative John L. McClellan says he's equally loyal; J. R. Venable, third candidate, stays aloof from argument; Governor Carl E. Bailey, Democrat, has two opponents.

Idaho—Senator James P. Pope, administration stalwart, challenged by Representative D. Worth Clark, self-styled conservative Democrat, in clear-cut test of New Deal strength; three Republicans seek right to oppose winner; Governor Barzille Clark in four-sided race for Democratic renomination.

Nebraska—Governor R. L. Cochran, Democrat, asks third term; one Republican and four Democratic representatives up for renomination; no national issues.

Washington—(U)—The popular strength of three pro-Roosevelt senators was being determined today in primary elections in Ohio, Arkansas and Idaho.

Only the Idaho contest, however, was conceded to both sides to be a direct test of New Deal appeal. It was between Senator James P. Pope, co-author of the 1933 crop control act, and Representative D. Worth Clark, foe of the government reorganization bill and other White House measures.

Senators Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio and Hattie Caraway of Arkansas who like Pope have gone down the line for the administration, also had opposition. But their challengers joined them in proclaiming loyalty to the president's principles.

Mrs. Caraway's major rival was Representative John L. McClellan, who declared that Mr. Roosevelt's reference to the only woman senator as a "very old friend" did not constitute an endorsement. A third candidate, J. Roscoe Venable, did not take part in this argument.

Ohio Battle

In Ohio, the Democratic contest between Senator Bulkley and former Governor George White was less sensational than two other primary races in the state. Bulkley was the apparent choice of Mr. Roosevelt, who spoke highly of him in a speech the last month. White said he favored New Deal principles without being a "yes man."

The Republican senatorial battle was a heated one between Robert Taft, son of the former president, and Judge Arthur Day of the Ohio Supreme court. Day contended Taft had made tremendous expenditures in his campaign, while Taft denied the charge and accused his opponent of "mud-slinging."

The third major fight in Ohio was over the Democratic nomination for governor. The incumbent, Martin L. Davey, was opposed by National Committeeman Charles Sawyer. The social security board is considering withdrawing grants for old age pensions in the state because it said Davey had made political use of the pension system.

Other Primaries

As in Ohio, voters in Arkansas, Idaho and Nebraska were choosing nominees for governor and national

Russians Will Climb

Russians have mountaineering craze, according to reports from Moscow. More than 30,000 are expected to scale the Caucasus, the Pamirs and the Altai this year, and more than 50 camps for these altitude lovers are being built in anticipation of a big boom. That's nothing! America can boast of California, Ontario, where thousands from all over the United States and Canada swarm to see the famed "quaint." Let the Russians climb, build camps and hire instructors. Buy Papa Domes souvenirs and keep both feet on the ground.

'Sales Mean Jobs' Drive To be Sponsored in City By Chamber of Commerce

A helpful tonic will be administered to business and industry in the city and vicinity by the "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign which the Appleton Chamber of Commerce this week voted to sponsor.

In shouldering the campaign locally, the chamber is joining a nation-wide movement to encourage better business and greater employment by increasing the sales in all fields.

It was announced this morning by Kenneth H. Orbert, secretary of the chamber, that Alex C. Benz, first vice president of the chamber, will be chairman for the campaign. Mr. Benz is president of the Aid Association for Lutherans.

Purdy Makes Appointment

His appointment as chairman was made by Roy H. Purdy, president, and confirmed by the chamber directors. Mr. Benz will select his committee and work will start immediately on plans for the campaign which culminates in a large public meeting at which the significance of the "Sales Mean Jobs" theme is explained and emphasized by able speakers.

The "Sales Mean Jobs" meeting in Appleton probably will be held in about three weeks. Preparations made by the committee will include the soliciting of various organizations in the city in the campaign and interesting the man on the street in the economic and social implications of the drive.

Started in Nebraska about four months ago, the "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign has proved its workability in every community where a careful, concerted effort was made to interest people in its beneficial influence.

Need More Offense

Its founders believe that business is playing too much of a "waiting game" and that too many business and industrial leaders are on the defensive. The "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign, then, proceeds on the premise that the "best defense is a good offense."

"We have had reports from Milwaukee, Kenosha, Sheboygan, Neenah-Menasha and other Wisconsin cities on their campaigns and they were highly successful," Corbett said today. "The speakers and general programs presented at the meetings were very popular, well attended, and effective."

Corbett said the chamber already has "several outstanding speakers in mind" but that selection will not be made until the committee has studied the campaign more thoroughly.

Says Mrs. Lutzke Threatened Mate Before Slaying

Witness Testifies Defendant Said She Would Shoot Husband

Sheboygan—(U)—Testimony that Mrs. Lillian Lutzke had announced two weeks before her husband, Milton, death she would shoot him for going out with other women was introduced today by a sister-in-law of Lutzke in the first degree murder trial of 23-year-old blonde.

The testimony was offered by Mrs. Christine Lutzke.

Milton Lutzke, 31, was wounded fatally June 16.

Mrs. Lutzke said she struggled with her husband for possession of a gun. She said he had threatened to kill her and that she fought in self-defense.

Yesterday it was established in the trial that Mrs. Lutzke appeared at the hospital after the fatal shooting with her face bruised and bleeding.

Special Prosecutor Charles E. Copp yesterday drew from Coroner H. H. Heiden testimony that Mrs. Lutzke had told him she killed her husband during a struggle over a pistol which she had taken for protection on the fatal ride.

Dr. Heiden said Mrs. Lutzke told him her husband had said he was taking her on her "last ride." On cross examination the coroner said he saw Mrs. Lutzke after the shooting with her left eye bruised, her lips bleeding, and four fingermarks on her throat.

Folksmen Testify

Officers Charles Perle testified Mrs. Lutzke had said: "He was choking me. It was either him or me." Officer Joseph Schaefer testified she said, "during the struggle he was shot."

Testimony that Mrs. Lutzke admitted shooting her husband was given by the William J. Jacobs, Sr., and Jr., who live near the shooting. The father testified Mrs. Lutzke came to his home and said: "I shot my husband. I've got the gun under my coat. Get help immediately."

Copp in his opening statement said the state would prove accidental discharge of the pistol unlikely, and that a motive would be shown. H. S. Humke, defense attorney, described Lutzke as a sadist and cited what he said were evidences of his sadistic treatment of Mrs. Lutzke.

Mrs. Lutzke, at the time of the shooting, told officials she and her husband had quarreled because of a chance remark by a bartender, who asked her in her husband's presence if he hadn't met her before.

In the back seat of the car as the couple quarreled was Mrs. Lutzke's 3-year-old son.

Suspect in Slaying Of Scoutmaster Is Nabbed in New York

Batavia, N. Y.—(U)—Sought over half the nation since last October for questioning in the hitch-hike murder of Morris B. Close, Rochester scoutmaster, Wilfred B. Squires was held by state police today.

Squires was arrested by State Police Sergeant Harry Dehollander in Emporia, Va., and returned to Batavia last night, Inspector Eugene E. Hoyt said.

Close's body was discovered in a field near Rochester, Oct. 9. The scoutmaster had disappeared July 19, 1937, while driving between Albany and Rochester.

Squires was linked with the Close murder probe when a gasoline station attendant at Kingsport City, Mo., partially identified his picture as that of a man he had seen riding in a car stolen from Close, in company with Charles Padgett, of Aliquippa, Pa. Padgett's body was found the next day in a ditch near Kingsport City. Close's clothes were found near the body.

Chemicals Fail to Save Big Still From Raiders

Chicago—(U)—Odor-absorbing chemicals failed today to save a 1,500-gallon still from seizure by agents of the alcohol tax unit who raided a supposedly vacant six-story west side building. The still, valued at $15,000, was equipped with chemicals to absorb odors of fermenting mash, agents said.

Chicago—(U)—A reported $3,000 was taken by two swarthy, "identical" gunmen who held up the Racine Beverage company, wholesale liquor and beer concern, shortly before closing time last night.

Peter and Sarah Simonsen, president and assistant treasurer of the company, told police they were forced to face the wall while they emptied the till.

Gang Killing Is Seventh in Seven Weeks

Another Victim in Chicago Slain Less Than 24 Hours Previously

TRY TO LINK CRIMES

Investigation Begun to Learn Whether Murderers are Connected

Chicago—(U)—Daylight today uncovered the seventh gangster-style slaying in Chicago within seven weeks and the second within 24 hours.

Huddled near the W. Thirty-fourth street wall of Comiskey park, the Chicago White Sox baseball field, the body of Sam "Frog Legs" Picciotto, 23, was found by passersby shortly after daybreak.

The park is less than a mile from the slaying scene of James G. Dunagan, business agent of a painters' union, was slain last night.

Police said Picciotto was shot twice through the neck from close range with a .25 caliber pistol. Tire skid tracks indicated, officers said, that the body was thrown from an automobile.

Pickets Inside Out

Picciotto, who detectives said possessed a minor police record, lived less than a block from the home of Nick Chiaramonte, a fruit dealer who was put on the spot July 21 in a gang-type slaying still unsolved.

Picciotto's pockets were turned inside out. But several coins lay near the body and detectives surmised that robbery was only the simulated motive. An investigation was begun to determine if the slaying were connected with the ambush of Dunagan.

The 35-year-old union czar, who frustrated an attempt on his life in 1934, was murdered in front of his home. The shooting followed by only 36 hours the assassination of two political workers on the west side.

Dunagan was about to step into his parked car when two men, whom he apparently knew, approached while they were taking a third man walked from behind a

Says Milwaukee Will Be Included in U. S. Probe of Medic Body

Milwaukee—(U)—The president of the United Federal Workers (CIO) predicted today that the Milwaukee medical situation would be included in the federal investigation of the American Medical association and its affiliates when it comes before a grand jury in Washington, D. C., late this month.

Jacob Baker of Washington, the union leader, who addressed locals of his union last night, said he had conferred with Thurman Arnold, assistant United States attorney general, Sunday at Washington and that Arnold, who is in charge of the medical investigation, indicated he would have the matter ready to bring before the grand jury in three weeks.

The Federated Trades Council and the state CIO have forwarded to Arnold data concerning the expulsion of seven medical center doctors from the medical society of Milwaukee county, and their expulsion from local hospitals by the A.M.A.

The ousted doctors are prepared to testify at Washington.

Farmyard Shooting Is Considered Open Case

Manitowoc—(U)—The farmyard shooting of Herman Douglas and Harry Shobloski of Manitowoc still was an open case today, District Attorney John Cashman declared after questioning John Meyer, 25, whom Sheriff Norman Borkedal said admitted shooting because he thought the men were robbers.

Cashman termed the case an apparent "unfortunate accident," but would not comment further. No charge has been placed against Meyer, a farm hand, he asserted.

Schloglaska received a pellet in the arm, and Douglas pellets in the face and arm, when they drove into the yard of Mrs. Margaret Corfe last Saturday night, seeking, they said, directions to another farm.

Men in Strike-Bound Factory Built Gigantic Slingshot to Fire Rocks At Pickets, Canton Policeman Says

Washington—(U)—A Canton, Ohio, city policeman testified today that men inside the strike-bound Republic Steel corporation plant there last summer rigged up a "super-slingshot" and with it peppered union pickets outside the plant.

The policeman, Walter Koelner, described the weapon to the senate civil liberties committee as something akin to a medieval catapult, consisting of an automobile incombustible stretched between two vertical posts.

Rocks were the ammunition, he said. The machine's operators were not identified.

Koelner said that when he and another officer protested at the plant gate they were ordered off company property by a uniformed Republic policeman.

Oliver Ferren of Cambridge, Ohio, who served as picket commander for the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, said he was struck by

Plant Partly Closed After 'Purge' Move

CIO Union Tries to Oust 'Agitators and Trouble-Makers'

A. F. L. DRIVE FAILS

Company Closes 2 Departments When Pickets Stay at Stations

Ottawa, Ill.—(U)—An attempt yesterday by a CIO-affiliated union to "purge" its membership of "agitators and trouble-makers" resulted in partial closing of the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass company plant here today.

Two departments were closed when pickets of Local 19 of the Federation of Flat Glass Workers remained at stations in front of the plant. A. S. Middleton, plant manager, said 950 men were at work Monday and only 400 were on the job today.

The laminating department, and a waterroom where cutters and examiners work were closed.

A notice posted on the company's bulletin boards Monday warning employees the plant would be closed if the pickets were not withdrawn.

Federation Drive Fails

The dispute started when an abortive attempt to charter an American Federation of Labor union in the plant last week failed. The CIO union, but the union does not have a closed shop although it represents a majority of the workers.

Leland Beard, president of Local 19, said last week: "We are stopping the men at the gates and finding out their sentiment on the union question. We are determined to proceed until the agitators who have been causing the rumpus (attempt to form the A. F. L. union)."

"We do not have a closed shop at the factory. We do have a big majority of union members. We expect the men, union or not, to go along with us and not cause trouble and agitation, which is bad for all concerned."

The company statement, signed by D. E. Goodwillie, executive vice president, called this union action "unwarranted interference with workers entering our plant." It concluded with the sentence "the company was not in the past, and does not now propose to discriminate against any regular workers."

Fires Destroy 2 Hay-Filled Barns

Buildings at DeBruin and Shepherd Farms Near Seymour Burn

Fire of unknown origin early last evening destroyed the large barn at the Edwin DeBruin farm, route 2, Seymour, causing a loss of about $3,500. Part of the loss is covered by insurance.

A second blaze this noon destroyed the barn at the Finley Shepherd farm, route 4, Seymour. The fire destroyed the hay stored in the barn, and milk equipment. Loss was estimated at $6,000 and is covered by insurance. It is believed the fire started from spontaneous ignition.

The Seymour and Black Creek fire departments were called and firemen saved the farm home and other buildings, including the granary.

The blaze on the DeBruin farm was noticed by one of the DeBruin children who spread the alarm. The barn recently was filled with about 100 loads of hay and some straw, all of which was destroyed. A hay loader and crusher also were destroyed in the blaze.

Efficient work by the Seymour fire department and willing neighbors saved the granary, which was attached to the large barn.

The huge blaze, which lighted the sky and could be seen for miles, attracted a large number of motorists and Highway 55, on which the farm is situated, was lined with cars for about four miles.

Grand Jury, Legislative Inquiries are Halted

Harrisburg, Pa.—(U)—Chief Justice John W. Kephard of the Pennsylvania supreme court today issued a rule which, in effect, halted both a grand jury and a legislative investigation of charges against Governor George H. Earle and 13 associates.

He gave the Dauphin county court 10 days to show why the grand jury deliberations, scheduled to start Thursday, should not be suspended until the supreme court has ruled on the constitutionality of a program by which the legislature sought to take over the inquiry.

The charges the grand jury was to study included political coercion, bribery, blackmail and conspiracy to defraud the commonwealth.

Miami Attorney Chosen Knights of Pythias Head

Chicago—(U)—E. Lee Stapp, Miami, Fla., attorney was elected supreme chancellor today of the Knights of Pythias, who are holding the fortieth convention of their supreme lodge here. He succeeded Fred H. Jones of Los Angeles.

Delegates representing 5,000 lodges of the fraternity in the United States and Canada, opened their convention yesterday. It will continue until Saturday.

Baltimore Police Arrest Desperado

Seize Charles Bird, Midwest Outlaw, With His Wife

Baltimore—(U)—The precarious trail of freedom that Charles Bird, Midwest desperado, had followed since breaking jail with his bank-robbing gang in Cleveland last year was dead-ended in a barred jail cell today.

Last of his notorious gang to be caught, the dark-haired, 26-year-old convicted robber and his attractive 24-year-old wife, blonde Barbara Seiber Bird, were trapped by detectives last night and held for a series of armed robberies here.

Stephen G. Nelson, acting police commissioner, said Bird confessed to at least seven robberies here.

John A. Cooney, captain of detectives, said Bird told him he and his wife came here in May after a $15,000 holdup in Boston. They were forced to abandon their car, he said, and later brought a new car. That car, a big green sedan, led to their arrest.

Philip Parks, a liquor truck driver held up Aug. 3, gave detectives a description of the green sedan and the slingshot began tracing the model until they found where their quarry lived.

Prosecution Rests in Carroll Murder Trial

South Paris, Maine—(U)—The state today rested its case against Francis M. Carroll, former deputy sheriff, charged with the strangulation slaying of Dr. James G. Littlefield, 67, for which Paul N. Dwyer, 19, now is serving a life sentence. The last of the state's 38 witnesses finished testifying at 1:40 p. m. C. S. T.

Dwyer, who confessed the strangulation of Dr. James G. Littlefield, 67, and his wife, Lydia, was the chief witness in the state's case against the 43-year-old Carroll.

Possibility of British Mediation Seen In Dispute

Krum Elbow-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.—(U)—A new economic gospel for the poor in pocket sprang up here today, across the Hudson from Hyde Park, fountainhead of the New Deal.

The prophet of the new gospel was Father Divine, bald and dusky lord of nearly a half hundred "heavens," who will lead his children today into a promised land on the 500-acre ancestral estate of Howland Spencer, viceroy aristocrat and New Deal critic.

More than 2,000 of Father Divine's "angels" left New York yesterday on two excursion boats to inspect the new Canaan.

While they wait at Milton for a three-hour feast of boiled corn, fried chicken and pie, Father Divine told them: "There is no reason for the depression, no reason for the welfare."

"Why should our country's land be landless? Be impractical! Be improvident? Be good for nothing? Because those who should be working are getting dolts!"

"They don't want to work! Many millions will be through our missions if there is relief from taxation. We mean to lift our standards of living in this country for business, for labor, for trade."

Chandler's Fishing Trip to Cause Indefinite Delay in Grand Jury 'Poisoning' Quiz

Louisville, Ky.—(U)—Governor A. B. Chandler said today he would leave within a few days for a northern fishing trip, postponing indefinitely a grand jury investigation of his "poisoning" during the governor's unsuccessful campaign against Senator Alben W. Barkley for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

On the basis of unofficial returns the senator's majority was more than 63,000 with only a few precincts uncounted.

Informers of the governor's plans to leave the state, Commonwealth Attorney Merit O'Neal said "as far as I am concerned" that ends the matter.

During the campaign the governor, State Finance Commissioner J. Dan Talbot and State Patrolman Jesse Wyatt were stricken after drinking water from a pitcher in a hotel here. Their doctor reported they had been "poisoned." Yesterday a special grand jury was called for Monday to investigate the charges.

Judge Approves Delay

Talbot said he did not know "where I will be Monday" when told of the investigation.

Judge Lorraine Mix, who ordered the investigation, said he would postpone the inquiry "to a date to suit their convenience."

With only 99 of the state's 4,313 precincts uncounted, Barkley had 255,717 votes to 219,189 for Chandler, a majority of 36,528.

In the Republican primary John P. Haswell, backed by the state G. O. P. organization, apparently won the nomination.

Unofficial returns indicated all nine of the state's incumbent congressmen had been renominated.

$13,837 Shortage In Wausau Funds

Council to File Claim With Bonding Company for Missing Amounts

Wausau—(U)—An audit of the accounts of Miss Rosina Emter, city treasurer for 12 years until her resignation July 19, was presented to the city council here last night showing a shortage of $13,837.81.

Unaccounted for are two large tax apportionments of $5,599 and $3,393 sent the city of Wausau in March and December respectively of 1937 as its share of state allotments.

Also unaccounted for during the period from Jan. 1 to July 18 this year are sums of $4,499 in cash, $133 in dog license fees, and personal I.O.U.'s to the amount of $191, the audit showed.

Mayor August Polster, whom Miss Emter succeeded as city treasurer 12 years ago, discovered the shortage.

The council last night instructed the city attorney to file a claim for the missing amounts with the city's bonding company at New York, J. Okonski, attorney for Miss Emter, asked permission to obtain a copy of the audit.

Badger Potato Growers On Their Yearly Tour

Waupaca—(U)—Wisconsin potato growers began their annual "soud belt" tour today under leadership of Prof. J. G. Milward, secretary of the state potato growers' association.

First stop on the tour was at the Hancock Experimental station, Waushara county. The growers then were to inspect Portage county fields.

Memorial services honoring the late John F. Jardine of Waupaca, former president of the National Potato association, were scheduled here late today.

Tomorrow the tourists will visit Langlade county. A meeting is scheduled in Rhineland Thursday, and the tour will close Friday at inspection of fields in Oneida and Vilas counties.

Fatally Injured When Auto Strikes Culvert

Sturgeon Bay—(U)—Martin J. Pivonka, 36, died yesterday of injuries suffered a few hours before when his automobile crashed into a culvert on a curve near the intersection of Highways 42 and 57, north of here. An inquest was ordered for next Monday.

Bee in Automobile Blamed for Death Of Washington Man

Sturgeon Bay—(U)—The flight of a bee into an automobile in which he was riding yesterday was blamed for the death of Frank Tarrein, 38, Spokane, Wash., in the resulting accident.

Tarrein's host, A. R. Geisler of Green Bay, lost control of his car after being distracted by the commotion raised by rear seat occupants when the bee flew in. The machine swerved, a tire blew out and the car overturned. Tarrein suffered a crushed skull. The other occupants escaped with minor injuries.

An inquest is to be held next

Postpone Hearing in Ouster of School Head

Beloit—(U)—A hearing originally scheduled for today by the school board in the ouster of Superintendent D. F. Rice was postponed indefinitely after his counsel obtained a temporary injunction at Janesville yesterday halting further proceedings.

The temporary order, issued by Judge Ernest Anzov, restrains Victor F. Dawald, newly chosen superintendent, from taking office.

Attorneys said the case probably would be argued in Rock county circuit court at the November term.

Nearly 150 Seek Major Offices In State Primary

September Contests May Be Most Interesting Since 1932

Madison—(P)—Contest for the Progressive nomination for governor was assured today when Glenn P. Turner, Madison Socialist and member of the Farmer-Labor Progressive Federation filed nomination papers to oppose Governor Philip F. LaFollette, who seeks a fourth term.

The governor's petitions also were filed today, which is the deadline for qualifying for the Sept. 20 primary.

Turner several times has been an unsuccessful candidate for the state supreme court. His papers were filed by William Quick, secretary of the Milwaukee unit of the Socialist party.

Up to a late hour today Lawrence J. Brody, LaCrosse, remained silent as to whether he will make the Progressive race for United States senator, a three-cornered affair between himself, Lieutenant Governor Herman L. Ekern and Congressman Thomas R. Amhe.

Brody came to Madison last night with nominating petitions but withheld filing them.

Madison—(P)—Nearly 150 political candidates, exclusive of the hundreds entered locally on single country tickets, had filed nomination papers for the Sept. 20 primary with the secretary of state up to noon today.

The scramble for the Republican United States senatorial nomination, the fight for the senatorial bid on the Progressive ticket, and the presence of coalition candidates running on both the Republican and Democratic ballots, make the primary perhaps the most interesting since 1932.

With the filing of papers by Edward J. Samp of Madison and William H. Stafford of Milwaukee, at least five Republicans will contest for the senatorial nomination. The others are Alexander Wiley, Chippewa Falls, John B. Chapelle, Ashland, and William J. Campbell, Oshkosh.

Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Fond du Lac, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Brody at Madison

Lawrence J. Brody of LaCrosse who indicated he would enter the Progressive race for senator against Lieutenant Governor Herman L. Ekern of Madison, and Congressman Thomas R. Amhe of Elkhorn, was here today with nominating papers. Ekern filed late yesterday with a claim of 15,000 signatures obtained in 10 days.

The coalition state ticket, headed by Robert K. Henry for governor, filed in both the Republican and Democratic columns. Others on this ticket are Walter S. Goodland, Racine, for lieutenant governor, John L. Wason, River Falls, for secretary of state, John M. Smith, Shell Lake, for treasurer and John E. Martin, Milwaukee, for lieutenant governor.

Among the late entries were: For governor: Frank W. Smith, Oshkosh, Union party.

Lieutenant governor: Earl H. Munson, Cambridge, Progressive.

State treasurer: Alonzo H. Wilkinson, Milwaukee, Republican.

Attorney general: James E. Finnegan, Milwaukee, Democratic.

The Democratic and Republican state tickets were expected to be complete late today. Midnight Tuesday is the deadline for filing petitions.

representatives today. The Democratic governors of the three latter states, like Day, were candidates for another term.

President Roosevelt will be back in the United States before the votes are counted tonight. There is speculation as to whether he will comment about the Georgia senatorial contest in two speeches Thursday. Senator Walter George, frequent administration critic, is opposed by Lawrence Camp, a New Dealer, and former Governor Eugene Talmadge. George received the endorsement last night of the American Federation of Labor.

Little Rock, Ark.—(P)—Arkansas voters today decided in a heated senatorial campaign fight climaxed by Senator Hattie W. Caraway's charge that her opponent was inspired by a campaign to undermine Roosevelt.

The nation's only woman senator was challenged for re-election by the bipartisan Democratic primary by

Police Radio Station Handles 1,132 Calls

A total of 1,132 transmissions were made over the police radio station at Oshkosh last month, according to a report received by Sheriff John Lappen. Outagamie and Waupaca counties each had 25 transmissions, Fond du Lac 30 and Winnebago 156. Appleton had 12 transmissions, Neenah 32 and Menasha 64.

Police radio messages aided in locating 10 missing persons, apprehending 3 drunken drivers, 10 wanted persons and recovering 15 stolen cars.

Fred Giese Files Nomination Papers

Appleton Man in Congressional Race in 8th District

Frederick W. Giese, Republican, Appleton, today filed nomination papers with the secretary of state at Madison for congressman in the Eighth district.

There will be contests for congressional seats in most of the 10 districts, but the Fourth and Fifth in Milwaukee appear to have attracted the greatest number of candidates. Congressman Raymond J. Cannon and Thomas O'Malley each will have several opponents for Democratic nominations in these districts, according to Associated Press reports.

Latest to enter the congressional races were:

First district: Harvey C. Hansen, Racine, and Stephen Bolles, Janesville, both Republicans; Francis H. Wendt, Racine, Progressive.

Third: Gardner R. Withrow, LaCrosse, Progressive, for reelection and State Senator E. J. Roethe, Fennimore, Republican.

Fourth: Phil P. Hayes, John P. Cassidy, Thomas E. Casey and Edwin Gora, Milwaukee county Democrats; John F. Schafer, Milwaukee, Republican.

Fifth: James F. O'Connor and Francis T. Murphy, Milwaukee, Democrats; Emanuel M. Goodman, Milwaukee, Progressive.

Sixth: Pete Ciriaci, West Bend, Progressive.

Ninth: Hugh M. Jones, Bloomer, Republican.

Tenth: James H. Carroll, Glendora, Republican.

Among state senatorial candidates who filed today were:

First: Joseph F. Konop, Kewaunee and Francis A. Yindra, Manitowish, Democrats; Everett LaFond, Appleton, Union.

Eleventh: Philip E. Nelson, Maple, former Republican, for reelection as a Progressive; Colin J. McCarra, Superior, Democrat.

Nineteenth: Pierce A. Morrissey, Rush Lake, Democrat, for reelection; Robert M. Heckner, Menasha, Democrat; Fred S. Brondson, Neenah, Progressive.

Thirtieth: Vincent J. Collins, Waukesha, Progressive; William A. Frechot, Waukesha, Republican.

Representative John L. McClellan of the Sixth district and Van Vetrin J. Rosser Venable.

What started out six weeks ago to be a quiet campaign ended with a flow of oratory disputing presidential endorsement and New Deal loyalty.

"One big issue in this primary is whether Arkansas wants to record itself as endorsing President Roosevelt's program or to go on record as wanting to 'return to the days of Hoover' asserted the 59-year-old Mrs. Caraway in her final appeal from her home town, Jonesboro. 'This is a campaign to undermine Roosevelt. I shall regard myself expected reelection as a mandate from the people to stand for the same principles I have fought for in the past.'

She claimed presidential endorsement after Mr. Roosevelt referred to her as "my old friend" during a recent train trip through this state, but McClellan, 17 years her junior, disputed this with the assertion that "presidential endorsement deliberately has been withheld in Arkansas and she has tried to build something out of mere courtesy that any lady was entitled to receive."

Columbus, Ohio.—(P)—Sweltering weather provided an appropriate setting today for a ballot decision on Ohio's heated primary contests. Early voting was reported to be fairly heavy.

Dramatic charges and counter-charges made in the primary campaign were expected to attract a record of 1,450,000 votes.

George Neffner, state elections statistician, predicted Democratic voters would outnumber Republicans for the first time in Ohio's election history.

Mrs. Ellen Beck was in Madison Sunday and Monday to attend the monthly meeting of Wisconsin Handicapped and Cosmetologists association and a meeting of the bureau of state advisory committee.

Russo-Japanese Conflict Means Added Dangers to Czechoslovakia in Crisis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
New York.—(P)—It may seem passing strange that a baby war between Russia and Japan should cast a dark shadow over far off central Europe, but the fact remains it has increased the dangers to Czechoslovakia in the crisis which has grown out of the demands of her big German population for autonomy.

The point is that the little republic has been looking to Russia and France for aid in event she is attacked, since she has military defensive alliances with both powers. Naturally, the heavier Russia's military commitments are in the Far East, the less the help she might be expected to give Czechoslovakia. And weakening of Russia's position as regards Europe might make France hesitate about adventures at arms.

New Verbal War

quarrel between the Czechoslovak and "Sudeten" Germans and the Prague government is confined at the moment to words, with Lord Runciman, Britain's unofficial mediator, sitting complacently on the lid.

One employs the word "complacently" advisedly, for the chief business of this thread and placid Englishman is to see that nothing more vigorous than a wordy warfare is started.

It is generally understood now that British Premier Chamberlain sent Runciman to Prague to stall for time, presumably on the theory that delay can't do any harm and may do some good. Germany hardly might be expected to make any hostile move against Czechoslovakia with the British "mediator" on the job, for Germany wants England's good will.

Washburn Files His Papers as Candidate For Wisconsin Senate

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—"Alfalfa Andy" Washburn of Clintonville wants another job, he said here yesterday as he filed nomination papers for the position of state senator for the 23rd district, made up of Waupaca and Portage counties.

Mr. Washburn, more formally known as "A. A.", is one of the prominent Progressives of the central Wisconsin section, and is known throughout the state for his early promotion of alfalfa as a staple farm crop.

Long time editor of the Clintonville Dairyman-Gazette, which he took over 18 years ago, he is also mayor of the city of Clintonville. He is now serving his second term. Once a farmer in Dodge county, he was also elected earlier in his career to the mayoralty of the city of Horicon.

His only opponent in the Progressive senate primary election is Harry Jacklin, town of Plover, Portage county, dairy farmer, who also filed his papers with the secretary of state Monday.

Brouillard Named To Police Force

29-Year-Old Barber Rates Highest Among 42 Applicants For Post

The fire and police commission today announced the appointment of Joseph L. Brouillard, 29, 508 W. Atlantic street, to the Appleton police department.

Brouillard rated highest in examinations given to the 42 applicants. Police Chief George T. Peim said the appointment probably will take effect the first of next month.

Brouillard was named by the commission to fill a vacancy on the department caused by the death of Edward Court. The commission reported today that 14 out of the 42 applicants passed the written examination. The 14 who passed were given oral tests, with Brouillard ranked the highest.

The new officer came to the city eight years ago from Chippewa Falls. At present he operates a Barber Shop at 331 W. College avenue.

Farmers Object to Plan For Buying Up Cabbage

Racine.—(P)—Farmers of Racine, Kenosha and Milwaukee counties, faced with a cabbage surplus, last night objected to a federal surplus to buy up cabbage weighing from two to six pounds per head.

R. W. Tysen, FSCC representative at the rural massmeeting, was told such a program would be of no help, since heads that weight are easily sold. Growers demanded the government take further steps to arrange for purchase of kraut cabbage.

Tysen said all purchases must be rated as U. S. No. 1. That also caused dissatisfaction.

Death of Two Women Is Tied to Accident

Milwaukee.—(P)—A verdict of accidental death was returned late yesterday following a coroner's inquest into the deaths Sunday of Misses Clara S. Sewell and Josephine Crandall in an auto crash.

Joseph Crandall, 33, driver of the automobile which struck the car in which the women were riding, was released. He had been held by the sheriff's office since the accident.

Civil War Veteran to Be Buried at Beloit

Beloit.—(P)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for L. J. Musselman, 93, Civil war veteran and one time Indian scout who died here Sunday. A native of Cincinnati, he ran away from home at the age of 14. Later he drove a pony express.

Racine.—(P)—The body of a man killed Sunday by a train near here was identified yesterday as Klene Stolf, a Lincolnton, Pa. He had first been identified as his cousin, Mike Androff, because of papers he carried.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

The street and bridge committee of the city council will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at city hall. Routine business will be conducted.

Shiftless Skunks Belie Name, Win Track Crown

By BILL SPENGLER
Gardner Dam.—One dozen athletes from Clintonville and Appleton under the name of the Shiftless Skunks, scored the greatest number of credits in Saturday afternoon's track meet and were presented with a large chocolate cake as reward.

The winners, with 49 points, included Lewis Beer, Ed Beck, Art Drumm, Les Drumm, Roy Fillnow, John Hafeman, Reinhold Kiel, Orvil Marquardt, Ernest Thorpe, Don Thorpe, and Duane Wilkins, Troop 30, Clintonville, and Harlan Sieth, Troop 12, Appleton.

Skunk Hollow Boys, placing second with 38 points, were the following: Dave Adams, Jack Anderson, Dick Cantwell, Roger Cantwell, Bill Dicke, Jack Grosskopf, Cliff Meifert, and Bill Wege, Troop 35, Shawano; and Harry Pfeiffer, Evanston.

Free Lance Third

Another almost all-Shawano group was the Free Lance patrol that took 37 points and placed third. These 10 included Stan Bartlett, Earl Druckery, Bob Gansen, Dewayne Hodgdon, Roger Hull, Matt Kast, Junior Peterson, and Bill Scheider, Troop 35, Shawano; Morris Ringel, Troop 34, Shawano; and Lee Wilcox, Lake Geneva.

Troop 47, Wittenberg, scouts, with the title of The Sutter's Mill patrol, ran a close fourth when their results showed a net of 34. Willard Hartleben, Ray Osterich, Bob Olsen, and Carl Voeiz, Wittenberg; and George Zachow, Clintonville, made up this team.

Results of the four events run as follows: 100-yard dash, Class B, first, Dave Adams, Troop 35, Shawano; second, Bob Gansen, Troop 35, Shawano; third, Roger Hull, Troop 35, Shawano. Class A, first, Art Drumm, Troop 30, Clintonville; second, Harry Pfeiffer, Evanston; third, Harlan Sieth, Troop 12, Appleton.

Relay Race

Four man, 200-yard relay race, Class A, first, The Shiftless Skunks with Harlan Sieth, Les Drumm, Ed Beck, and Art Drumm; second, the Skunk Hollow Boys, with Jack Grosskopf, Roger Cantwell, Cliff Meifert, and Harry Pfeiffer; third, Sutter's Mill composed of Ray Osterich, Willard Hartleben, George Zachow, and Bob Olsen, Class B, first, Free Lance patrol, Roger Hull, Stan Bartlett, Bob Gansen, and Bill Scheider; second, Skunk Hollow with Bill Wege, Bob Weber, Dick Cantwell, and Dave Adams.

Broadjumping 16 feet, 10 inches, Art Drumm, Troop 30, Clintonville, took first in Division A; second, Bob Olsen, Troop 47, Wittenberg; third, Harry Pfeiffer, Evanston; Class B, first, Bill Scheider, Troop 35, Shawano; second, Dave Adams, Troop 35, Shawano; third, Willard Hartleben, Troop 47, Wittenberg.

Final event, the baseball throw for distance, in Division A was a clean sweep for Troop 30, Clintonville, first, Ed Beck; second, Reinhold Kiel; third, Art Drumm, Class B, first, Willard Hartleben, Troop 47, Wittenberg; second, Bill Scheider, Troop 35, Shawano; third, Roger Hull, Troop 35, Shawano.

2 Classes

Contestants were classified according to age, Class B ranging from 12-14, and Class A over 14. Staffmen Frenzer, Hausman, Hoks, and Remensco acted as officials.

After a week of practice and two days of examination, seven Pioneer Week campers succeeded in passing the requirements in Junior Red Cross life saving. These advanced swimmers include Dave Adams, Jack Anderson, Dick Cantwell, Bill Dicke, Adrian Gansen, and Cliff Meifert, Troop 35, Shawano; and Harry Pfeiffer, Evanston.

Peddling all the way from home to camp on their bikes, Tom McCarty, Troop 31, and Ivan Schatzka, Troop 20, Kaukauna, arrived at Gardner Dam on Saturday afternoon. They left Kaukauna early Friday morning and stopped overnight with relatives near Embarras. Again on the road the next morning, they made Shawano by noon and the last lap, through the reservation, was completed in four hours.

Saturday night the week's final get-together was held.

Winners Named

Following this big song fest, the winners in the past week contests of table and cabin inspections received their rewards, a tasy feed of cake and pie. In mess hall number one the Skunk Hollow patrol, with Jack Anderson, Bill Dicke, Jack Grosskopf, Dewayne Hodgdon, Marlin Krenger, Bob Lillie, Cliff Meifert, and Bob Weber, Troop 35, Shawano, topped first honors in

Law Provides Way To Rid Industry Of Overtime Load

44-Hour Week Regulation Won't Disturb Mills, W. F. Ashe Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison.—Manufacturers of Wisconsin today had the assurance of William F. Ashe, former Kaukauna paper mill executive and now director of the state department of commerce, that there is little to disturb them in the new federal wages and hours law which becomes effective Oct. 26.

However, he told Governor LaFollette's administrative conference Monday afternoon, the provision in the new federal law requiring time and a half for more than 44 hours per week may have an adverse effect on continuous operation industries of Wisconsin such as the paper mills.

An alternative is available, however, he explained. Industries which wish to avoid what many unions and employers alike consider "overtime rackets" in shift work could avoid them by limiting legal hours worked during 32 consecutive weeks to 2,000 hours.

Ashe pointed out that if unions and employers agree to the 2,000 per year limitation, time and a half for overtime workers is not required.

Through this method, the former personnel head of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company told state executives, when a key man on a continuous operation job is ill or on vacation, other skilled men would work longer hours and divide the work. When the absent man returns, he in turn would work longer hours and make up the time owed to his fellow workers. This would preserve the present flexibility under which a man can get off to go fishing or other recreation by arrangement with his working partners.

"Contrary to public opinion, the wages and hours bill does not prohibit a man from working more than 44 hours a week," Ashe said. "It merely requires extra pay when a workman puts in more than 44 hours per week unless the 2,000 hour per year agreement has been entered into."

Heil Points to 'Empty Promises'

Declares Administration Has Kept None of Its Pledges

Manitowoc.—(P)—Julius P. Heil, Milwaukee manufacturer and candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, charged today that "empty promises for votes is all that the record shows for the past three terms of the present state administration."

"Heil said the men at the head of 'our present state government' had been before the people four times during the last eight years with promises of jobs and helpful legislation aimed to get the farmer's vote.

"Remember, none of those promises they have made have been kept," he added. "Here, for the fifth time, is their trading offer—your votes for their empty promises."

Commenting in Milwaukee on a statement of Jerome Fox, Democratic candidate for governor, that Heil apparently "is willing to spend a large amount" of money in his campaign, the Milwaukeean said Heil has made unusual expenditures unnecessary and that "Mr. Fox probably has spent as much money as I have to date, perhaps more."

Extends Deadline for Payment of Truck Fees

Madison.—(P)—The deadline for payment of 1938-39 truck license fees was extended by Secretary of State Theodore Dammann today to Sept. 1. The law requires payment of the fees by July 15, but Dammann previously had granted an extension to Aug. 15. He said he had received urgent requests for further time.

Sailboat Races, Canoe Jousts Held at Onaway

BY HENRY JOHNSON

Camp Onaway.—An amateur sailboat race using converted flat-bottomed rowboats was the main feature of the annual water carnival which was held at the Appleton Y.M.C.A. camp on Onaway Island Sunday afternoon. Rowboat races, canoe jousting, diving exhibitions, and swimming events were also included.

Maneuvering the boat "Ma Dick" around a triangular course which had to be frequently changed so boats could catch what wind there was, Bill Sherry and Louis Fentner finally drifted across the finish line in first place. Bruce Curry and Stan Williams manned the "Snipe" to take second position, and Farham Johnson and Leonard Colvin made up the crew of the third craft.

Since the regulations for the race specified that no sails could be driven into the boats, the amateur sailors adopted ingenious means of rigging masts and sails, and the two winning boats had even been equipped with makeshift keels fastened with the aid of clamps and wire.

Fight on the Log

An interesting and amusing event was log jousting. A pine log was placed across the docks over the water. Two contestants then mounted the log which had been made even more slippery by pouring water on it, and battled until one was pushed into the water.

Carl Neidhold and Jim Kluge battled to a tie. Don Williams then defeated Bob Johnson, Harland Clark, Junior Cartier, and Tom VanHousen in rapid order, and then fought to a draw with Cliff Wallen. Dick Bailey defeated John Brunke, and then tied with Junior Cartier. Leaders Fred Oliver and Karel Richmond battled to a tie, and Louis Phillips toppled Howard Ruth.

Knights of the Canoe

Canoe teams of three each engaged in canoe jousts, using poles with pillow-like pads on the ends as weapons. The team of Junior Cartier, Bob Brooks, and Jack Bennie defeated Jack Neitzel, Jack Stenon, and Bob Lathrop; Jim Grist, Jim Gustman, John Brunke, and Owen Kuemstedt, Joe Benton, and Wayne Gerhart; Tom Watson, Tom VanHousen, and Cliff Wallen were defeated by Don Williams, John Martin, and Charles Wallen; and Dick Bailey, Dick White, and Carl Neidhold tipped Paul Nelson, Jim Kluge, and Bob McGee.

The rowboat team of Cary Neidhold, Leonard Colvin, and Louis Fentner won the rowboat race. Paul Nelson, Dick Jabas, and Dick White came in second. Other teams which participated were John Brunke, Jim Gustman, and Jim Grist; Bill Sherry, John Martin, and Charles Wallen; and Don Williams and Harland Clark.

In the free style swimming race Junior Cartier finished first; Dick Bailey crossed the line second, and Bob McGee, Tom VanHousen, and Cliff Wallen finished in that order. Jim Bailey and Bob Bailey gave an exhibition of canoe bobbing, and Jim Bailey and Howard Ruth gave an exhibition of diving from the high tower.

General Weather

Showers have occurred since yesterday morning over southern Wisconsin, the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, the southern and New England states and over the northern plains states, but fair weather is general this morning over the southern plains, southern Rocky mountains and along the Pacific coast.

Continued warm is general this morning over all sections from the plains states eastward, but it is cool over the northern Rocky mountains and the Canadian Northwest. High maxima occurred yesterday over the central Mississippi valley and plain states, with 102 degrees recorded at Kansas City, Mo., and Dodge City, Kans.

Unsettled weather with scattered thundershowers is expected in this section during the next 24 hours, with continued warm.

Embezzler on Probation; Must Make Restitution

Racine.—(P)—Alfred Floyd Carlson, 35, who pleaded guilty to embezzling $2,500 from an insurance company for which he was an agent, was placed on probation yesterday by Municipal Judge E. R. Burgess on condition that he make restitution. The court was informed Carlson already had repaid more than $250.

STOP AGENCY SERVICE

Madison.—(P)—The public service commission authorized the North Western road today to discontinue agency service at Tiffany, Rock county, and substitute caretaker service. The company said its business at Tiffany did not warrant expense of an agent.

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY JOHN W. WYNGAARD
Madison—All is not well in the strongholds of Wisconsin Democracy. From various sources during the last few days has come evidence that there is a growing coolness between James Corcoran, Webster, and his personally selected gubernatorial candidate, young, earnest Jerome Fox of Chilton.

Wyngaard, captain of the party's state machinery by virtue of his position as chairman of the state central committee, is peeved because of Fox's delay in beginning a campaign, according to stories now circulating in party caucuses. Nearly a month has passed since he was nominated, and except for a couple of pep meetings in his home county, Calumet, the HOLC attorney has not taken the stump.

From other camps comes the word that a number of influential Democratic senators and assemblymen are not anxious to share speaking programs with the head of their state ticket. Some of the Democratic old-timers in the legislature are shrewd and practical men, as the few Democrats who were elected in the pre-New Deal era had to be in order to survive, and they are making worried remarks on the effect of Fox's HOLC affiliation on public opinion in their bailiwicks. HOLC, it will be recalled, has been foreclosing mortgages, in many cases as mercilessly and more impersonally than the most hard-hearted private mortgagee.

DIFFY WING
The Corcoran stories have some plausibility in themselves because it is generally understood that the state chairman would have been willing to take the Democratic nomination himself if he had any notion that the state organization would go to bat for him. But he had not always played his cards well, and there are some local leaders who would not have given him much encouragement.

Thirty-three year old Fox, who hasn't much experience in political campaigning, will be taken under Senator Duffy's protective wing immediately after the primary, if he can capture the nomination from Coalitionist Robert K. Henry. Many doubt that he can.

In the meantime Senator Duffy has told friends that he would prefer that his Progressive opponent in the general election be Herman Ekern rather than Tom Amle. For Ekern, he feels, is more vulnerable in a Wisconsin campaign, particularly because of his long dry record. Progressives agree, but are still banking on Ekern to trim Amle.

FUSION REALITIES
While their state ticket is apparently resolved to wage a one-candidate campaign, the Coalitionists' organization looks pretty anemic. It has become plain that the fusion idea has been saved by the happy choice of a candidate. Organization amounts to little, although there were elaborate plans charted on paper at the Madison conference last winter and spring. The novel county plebiscites, which were to be held in the 71 counties in order to give the garden variety of anti-LaFollette voters an opportunity to pass on candidates, were not even tried, as far as can be determined.

Although observers conclude that the fusion managers did pretty well—a lot better than anyone expected in point of fact—in whipping a ticket into shape, the candidates actually were named in a Madison hotel room one Saturday afternoon by not more than a dozen men, several of whom had no official connection with the coalition committee.

MEDICINE IN POLITICS
In the capitol these days one gets the impression that Governor LaFollette is going to have some social medicine ideas in his platform for reelection, despite the fact that his administration didn't lift a finger to support the celebrated Biemiller program in the 1937 legislature.

Accordingly it is interesting to remember that the Wisconsin Medical society, vehement opponent of socialized medicine ideas, has on its payroll two men who stand pretty high in the regard of Progressive party leaders, and are sons of Charles Crownhart, Sr., who gave such distinguished services to the party in an earlier day.

The Crownhart brothers, George and Charles, are secretary and legal counsel, respectively, for the medical society. The former was the society's mouthpiece last year in opposition to the cooperative medicine and health insurance plans before the legislature. The latter is, significantly, a member of the Progressive state central committee, the core of the Progressive party which would have to second Phil's platform ideas.

CAP AND GOWN POLITICIANS
The observer who tries to catch the most interesting developments in the state's shifting political picture may conclude today that the Democratic party is missing a good bet by failing to cultivate friends on the University of Wisconsin faculty.

Both the Progressives and the Republicans have exceedingly vocal representatives on the faculty of the state's biggest school. "Brain-trusters" they are sometimes called. Progressives have most of them, including, to mention a few, E. E. Witte, economic pundit, Dean L. K. Garrison, W. G. Rice, Nathan Feinsinger of the law school, Walter Morton and Harold Groves of the economics staff, John Gaus and Jack Salter in the department of political science.

Republicans, however, also have a handful of willing faculty workers, although they don't get so much chance to show their wares in state affairs these days. They include F. H. Elwell, veteran dean of the school of commerce, and Asher Hobson, now getting some notice in the public prints through his contributions to Glenn Frank's program forum in Chicago on behalf of the national Republican committee.

POLITICS IN BRIEF
Caryl Morse, who in 1936 made the headlines when she became the first woman president of a University of Wisconsin senior class in its history, and again when she led the student "strike" when Glenn Frank was fired, is working in the Ekern for Senator organization.

John B. Chapple has a new system of building a campaign chest. Admitting that commercial lenders don't consider him a very good risk as a candidate, Chapple is asking for loans from his admirers and followers, assuring 6 per cent interest.

The attorney general, Orland S. Loomis, says he is not dismayed at the prospect of an athletic campaign for reelection as the result of the candidacies of Republican Richard Murray and Democratic Lawrence Dilweg, both former Green Bay Packer stars. He used to be a pretty good hand himself in basketball and baseball, he relates.

FIGHTING BACK
About 1,500,000 Baders make their livings on farms. Therefore it has never been surprising that every political platform in Wisconsin for years has viewed with alarm the state department of agriculture and markets. And so C. E. Broughton's current denunciations of the department as the willing tool of the dairy monopolies are not exciting as much interest as they could.

What is new, however, is the sight of the department fighting back. And it is due to rebellious aggressive Ralph E. Ammon, who unlike his predecessor Charles Hill, doesn't write conciliatory letters but retorts in kind to what he considers unwarranted accusations against himself and his policies. Ammon has the support of the seven member board of agriculture. Progressive from top to bottom, and what is more, the governor's office

New Deal Backing To Cost Barkley Senate Prestige

Influence Impaired by Roosevelt Aid in Nomination

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Was the renomination of Senator Barkley, assuming that it means reelection, a "break" favorable or unfavorable to the true liberals who are fighting the new Tory administration?

The best answer to that question is an examination of what the situation in the senate would have been had Mr. Barkley been defeated. For the Kentucky primary race settled not merely the status of one Democratic senator, but the leadership problem in the senate itself. If Mr. Barkley had been defeated, the majority leadership would have gone to Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, the man who logically deserved the post, but who was beaten by one vote through the political machinations of the president himself just after Senator Robinson died. The story of that one vote is being told and retold in Capitol Hill as the principal political blunder of Mr. Roosevelt's career.

Things have not gone well with his cause in the senate ever since, and a steady strengthening of the rebellion on the Democratic side has been noted.

Had Mr. Barkley been defeated for renomination, the leadership mantle undoubtedly being given to Senator Harrison, a different lineup would have come into effect, because the situation would have called for a certain amount of reconciliation between the opposing camps. In view of the fact that the Democrats would naturally want to present a united front in 1940, the selection of Senator Harrison as peacemaker would have been a ten-strike. It would have involved some concessions on the president's part, but his capitulation in the case of Senator Van Nuys shows that, when practical political situations confront him, Mr. Roosevelt has not forgotten all that Jim Farley and his earlier adviser, the late Louis McHenry Howe, taught him.

Aid to Opposition
The plight of Senator Barkley now only gives aid and comfort to the opposition—the Republicans and the true liberals on the Democratic side—who see in many Roosevelt policies the seeds of a political oligarchy such as the Tories in England accomplished and such as Nazism in Germany and fascism in other dictator countries have developed as the new technique in government.

For one thing, Mr. Barkley's influence on the Democratic side has been noted.

Had Mr. Barkley been defeated for renomination, the leadership mantle undoubtedly being given to Senator Harrison, a different lineup would have come into effect, because the situation would have called for a certain amount of reconciliation between the opposing camps. In view of the fact that the Democrats would naturally want to present a united front in 1940, the selection of Senator Harrison as peacemaker would have been a ten-strike. It would have involved some concessions on the president's part, but his capitulation in the case of Senator Van Nuys shows that, when practical political situations confront him, Mr. Roosevelt has not forgotten all that Jim Farley and his earlier adviser, the late Louis McHenry Howe, taught him.

WALGREEN DRUG STORES

CHILDREN HAVE OWN STORE AT PLAYGROUND

About fifty youngsters were on hand for "market day" at the children's supervised playground at Clintonville Friday afternoon. Several clerks were kept busy selling "make believe" groceries which were paid for with cardboard money made by the children. At another counter ice cream cones, pop, peanuts and gum were sold for pennies and nickels brought by the youngsters. Miss Esther Hawkes, playground supervisor, assisted the boys and girls in arranging the store. The supervised playground is sponsored during the summer months by the Junior Woman's club of Clintonville. Pictured above, left to right, the customers in the front row are Tommy Fischer, Jack Berkhan, Arlin Schoenicke and Melvin Jaucek; clerks in back row, Blanche Danley, Joan Vanderwalker and Ruth Reinert. Distribution of Surplus Foods Fails To Reduce Local Relief Expenditures

Madison—"The $758,518 worth of Federal Surplus Commodities corporation foodstuffs distributed in addition to regular relief expenditures and did not reduce local relief costs," according to an analysis of the activities of the corporation made by the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance.

"Commodities sent to Wisconsin by the FSCC are distributed by the welfare agencies to needy cases, but the relief case does not have his regular relief allotments reduced because he receives surplus commodities. Surplus commodities are distributed in addition to and not in lieu of other forms of relief," the report stated.

"Approximately $10,000,000 worth of commodities have been distributed in Wisconsin since the program began in 1933," according to the Alliance survey. "Over $6,000,000 of this amount has been surplus commodities distributed by the FSCC. The value of the commodities distributed in 1937 was the lowest of any full year since the plan was started." Grapefruit was the principal commodity distributed in 1937.

Oranges leading Article
"Commodities distributed in Wisconsin during the first six months of 1938 amounted to $1,087,691, a 39 per cent increase over the value of commodities distributed the first six months of 1937."

"Purge" Campaign
The "purge" campaign means more dissension inside the Democratic party, but it makes the achievement of harmony inside the senate in particular an almost impossible task for even the most skillful of leaders, which Senator Barkley is not. Left to himself, for might have made a great leader, for his instincts are good and he is a straightforward individual who likes to do the right thing. Steered, however, in this direction and that by the president, or rather by the political thinking nowadays, no leader can expect to keep a harmonious front. Thus, suppose most of the Democratic senators who now have been the victims of "purge" campaigning come back to their seats in the senate. How much trust can they put in Mr. Barkley's consultations with them on legislative matters when they know he represents the leader of the party who has tried to stab them in the back politically or who has wanted to impose the death sentence upon their political lives? How much prestige will Senator Barkley, as majority leader, have in speaking on the floor of the senate? This embarrassing situation is bound to rebound to the advantage of the opposition, as, indeed, it has in the past when a majority party has been broken in two. The history of the Republican split, beginning in 1910 in congress and carrying through to 1912 and beyond, shows how the temporary coalitions slowly but surely get a majority.

At the next session, the majority against the administration—the Republicans in combination with the true liberals of the Democratic party—will be strong enough to control the senate, and this means that, sooner or later, the real investigations into the activities of new Tory agencies, which thus far have been blocked at every turn, will come to the surface and bring to light the many things on which the American people have been in the dark and on which they will need information to guide them in the 1940 campaign.

President Okays WPA Projects in Eighth District

Notice of Approvals Received by Congressman George J. Schneider

Congressman George J. Schneider has been informed that President Roosevelt has approved seven WPA projects in the Eighth district.

Three of the projects are in Kewaunee county. The sum of $2145 has been granted for a street improvement project at Algoma. A grant of $2440 has been made for a street improvement project and a grant of $5391 for a water main installation project at Kewaunee.

Approval has been given for a $1285 project to improve school grounds in the village of Lena, Oconto county. A project for planting of flowers and shrubs about public buildings at Green Bay will have a federal grant of $7,071. A grant of $22,414 has been allowed for a city-wide project at Two Rivers, Manitowish county, including the digging, hauling, planting and replanting of trees on various city properties, streets, parks and playgrounds. A conservation project in Forest county will get a grant of $137,999. The project provides for making forest, stream and lake improvements, repair and improve fish hatchery and forest and park facilities.

Will Start Building College Tennis Courts Near River This Week

Work is expected to start this week on the construction of four new concrete tennis courts on the Fox river bank behind the Lawrence college campus.

The Kopeke Construction company, which has the contract for leveling the old Graef Manufacturing buildings and preparing the property for use by Lawrence college, also will build the new courts.

The courts will be constructed on the western side of the river bank property, which is near the intersection of E. Water and S. Drew streets. On the eastern side of the grounds on which the present improvement work is progressing a recreation field will be made.

Students are being held at the county jail in lieu of bonds of $500 each. The men were arrested Saturday night by city police after merchants reported the cashing of three worthless checks.

Dr. Kepler Will Fill Pulpit at Baptist Church

Lawrence Professor to Serve During Vacation of Pastor

The Rev. R. H. Spangler, pastor of First Baptist church, began a 3-week vacation from his preaching duties Sunday. He will spend the time in Eau Claire and Marinette counties. During his absence Dr. Thomas S. Kepler, professor of Bible and religion at Lawrence college, will conduct services and preach at the Baptist church.

Mrs. Marian Phillips, wife of the Rev. R. H. Spangler, will have a service at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. F. Stallman, 518 E. Wisconsin avenue. Last Sunday Mr. Spangler preached on "From One Generation to Another."

Several members of Emmanuel Evangelical church are at Lomira assembly grounds this week for the annual convention for young people. The Rev. G. H. Blum, pastor of the local church, is here today for the annual meeting of the Wisconsin branch of the Deaconsess society of which he is president, and others from here who are attending the convention for young people are Miss Marcella Peotter, delegate from the Sunday school; Miss Arlene Greb of Christian Endeavor society; Miss Mary Jane Greb of Berean Sunday school class; Miss Elaine Jabas, Miss Dorothy Van Horn, Mrs. Eldon Schultz and Mrs. G. H. Blum, visitors. Lawrence Blum will speak Friday night.

Quarterly Conference

The Rev. I. E. Schlagenhauf, district superintendent of Appleton district of the Methodist church, has a busy week lined up, with quarterly conferences every night. Last evening he conducted a conference at First Methodist church at Green Bay, and this evening he will be at Minocqua, while tomorrow night he will preside at Mercer. He will return to Green Bay for a quarterly conference at Zion Methodist church Thursday night, and on Friday will be at Wesley church, Manitowish. Next Sunday morning he will speak at Amherst where the church is celebrating its eighty-fifth anniversary. Next Monday and Tuesday the conference board of education will meet at Chain O' Lakes, Waupaca.

With the exception of announcements for holy communion Friday afternoon and evening, there are no special events scheduled for the week at St. Paul Lutheran church. Holy communion will be celebrated next Sunday. Last Sunday the Rev. T. J. Sauer, honorary pastor, preached on "Cast Your Cares Upon God."

Board Meets Tonight

The official board of First Methodist church will meet this evening at the church. Dr. Harry C. Culver, pastor, preached at his church last Sunday on the theme, "Why do the Innocent Suffer?" At Trinity English Lutheran church the Rev. D. E. Bosserman spoke on "The Heavenly Entrance." In the afternoon the Brotherhood sponsored an outing at the August Julius farm, route 1, Appleton. "The First Christian Congregation" was the subject of the sermon by the Rev. F. C. Reuter at First English Lutheran church Sunday.

The Rev. Robert K. Bell, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian church, gave the first of a series of sermons which he will deliver during the month of August before a joint congregation of Presbyterian and First Congregational church members, at union services Sunday at the Congregational church. His subject was "The Waters of Life."

Sam Miller, Stockbridge Indian, will speak at both English and German services next Sunday at St. Matthew Lutheran church. The sermon will be Sunday by the Rev. Philip F. Hughes, pastor, entitled "Hallowed Be Thy Name." At Zion Lutheran church the Rev. Theodore Marth, pastor, spoke on "Godliness is Profitable Unto All Things."

"Spirit" was the subject of the lesson-sermon for Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist. The following passage was taken from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The flesh lusteth against the spirit. The flesh and spirit can no more unite in action, than good can unite with evil. It is not wise to take a halting and halfway position or to expect to work equally with spirit and matter, truth and error. Because God is spirit, evil becomes more apparent and obnoxious proportionately as we advance spiritually, until it disappears from our lives."

Social Items

Kaukauna—Mrs. Martin Verbeten has invited the ladies of St. Mary's Altar society and their friends to play cards at her home on Third street Friday afternoon and evening. Prizes will be awarded.

The Past Noble Grands club will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Victor Tryon, 408 Depot street.

The Kaukauna Business and Professional Woman's club held a picnic yesterday evening at High Cliff park. A picnic lunch was served. In charge were the club's new officers, Mildred Nelson, Alma Renn, Mrs. Gen. Andersen, Alma Toman and Florence Goetzman.

Begin Final Audit of Sewage Plant Finances

Kaukauna—A final audit on the finances of the new sewage disposal plant was begun yesterday by a PWA official at the municipal building in the offices of the city clerk. The audit will be completed this week.

The Kaukauna office of the Appleton Post-Crescent is located in the ladies' Mertes barbershop on Wisconsin avenue. William Dowling is the correspondent in charge and the telephone number is 107. Subscribers may call this number until 6:30 in the evening if their papers were not delivered.

Kappells Defeat South Side C. Y. O. To Tie for First

Alger. Hurling for Winners. Allows 1 Hit Up to Last Inning

CITY LEAGUE

Standings	W.	L.
Kappell's Tavern	3	1
Kaukauna Klub	3	1
Mankosky Fuels	2	1
South C. Y. O.	2	2
Athletics	2	2
North C. Y. O.	0	5

Kaukauna—The Kappell Taverns sent themselves into a first place tie and eliminated the South C. Y. O. team from title consideration last night as they smashed out a 13 to 4 victory. Bill Alger on the mound for the winners, allowed but one hit up to the last inning, when he eased up and the losers collected three hits and four runs.

Tonight the Kaukauna Klub will clash with the Athletics. If the Klub win they are sure of at least a tie for the second half title. Tomorrow night the Mankosky Fuels and Kappell Taverns meet, and Thursday evening the south side C. Y. O. plays the Fuels.

4 Runs in First

Kappells, made four runs in the first, fourth and sixth innings last night. Mark Rohan's single was their only hit in the first, but two walks and two errors sent the scores across. Three hits helped them to their four in the fourth. Harvey Alger cracking a double, Balgie a triple and Martins a home run. In the sixth Harvey Alger led off with a single and Balgie followed with another. Joe Vils was safe on a miscue, and Mark Rohan singled home two runs. Junior Martins' double plated the last two.

The south side scored once in the second and third. A walk and an error, combined with Jerry Meyer's single, scored for them in the third, with Gloudermans scoring in the fourth by walking, taking second on an error, third on a passed ball and home on a fielder's choice. Meyer and Promer led off in the seventh for the losers with singles. Gloudermans reached first as Meyer was forced at third. Andrejeski singled to score Promer, and Gloudermans and Andrejeski came home on two errors. Peronteau scored the fourth run, getting to first on an error and scoring on another.

Kaukauna Lions Will Hold Scavenger Hunt

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna Lions club will meet at 6 o'clock tonight at the A. A. Gustman garage to leave on a scavenger hunt. The last stop will be at Hotel Hoffman, Hortonville, where dinner will be served.

JUMPS ARTERIAL

Kaukauna—George Daeten, Wrightstown, was fined $1 and costs yesterday in Justice Barney J. Mitche's court on a charge of failing to stop for an arterial. He was arrested Sunday by Kaukauna police.

Kaukauna Garden Exhibit Will Open Saturday Noon

Kaukauna—With the opening of the exhibits to the public Saturday noon the annual flower show of the Kaukauna Garden club, the event of the year for flower fanciers of Kaukauna and vicinity, will officially get under way. Fred C. Milz, general chairman, announced yesterday.

"The show is not only for Kaukauna exhibitors and citizens," Milz emphasized, "but for everyone in this territory. All are invited to send bouquets for showing and to attend the display and program."

The speaker, who will talk at 8:30 Saturday evening, will be announced sometime this week.

The show will be held Saturday and Sunday in the corridors of Kaukauna High school. Judging of the more than 500 expected exhibits will begin at 1:30. Any display received after this hour will not be eligible for competition, Milz said. The show will close its doors at 9 o'clock Sunday evening. Officials will be at the high school Saturday morning at 7 o'clock to receive exhibits and assign places.

Awards For Winners

Merchandise prizes will be awarded to the winning displays in the various classes. Local merchants have donated the awards. In addition several individuals have given the club awards to present in some classes.

Four florists will have professional displays at the show, the Kaukauna Floral company, William J. Goenen, Kimberly, Herman A. Holtz, Appleton, and Riverside Greenhouse, Appleton.

Raymond Toonen and Harold Fellner, Kaukauna, will have a rose display, and Ted Smith will display gladioli. Other special exhibits will be on view.

Band to Perform

The Kaukauna High school band, under the direction of Clarence Kriesa, will present a band concert at 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

Assisting Milz on the general committee are Lewis F. Nelson, Ted Smith, A. R. Mill, Jack Haen, William F. Haen and William Klumb. Mrs. Alma Haen and Mrs. William Harwood are co-chairmen of the entries and arrangements committee, with Mrs. A. R. Mill, Mrs. Lew F. Nelson, Mrs. Elizabeth Buerth, Mrs. William Klumb, Mrs. Joseph C. McCarthy, Mrs. Ben Prush, Mrs. Daniel McCarthy and Mrs. George Boyd assisting.

First Garbage Disposal Experiment Favorable

Kaukauna—A test of the possibility of using the new sewage disposal plant to take care of the city's garbage was made Saturday, with reactions, as far as the experiment went, favorable, according to Herb Haen, sewage plant superintendent. Only a half load of garbage was used, however, and further experiments will probably be made before the board of public works makes a recommendation to the council in reference to the adopting of a city-wide system of garbage disposal.

Veterans to Map Further Plans for Bike Safety Club

Permanent Water Carnival Committee Will be Named Tonight

Kaukauna—Appointment of a permanent standing committee to arrange for future water carnivals and the making of plans for the organization of a bicycle safety club here will be before the Veterans of Foreign Wars at their monthly meeting tonight at Legion hall. The veterans have decided to make their water regatta an annual event.

The bicycle club project is part of the Veterans of Foreign Wars national safety program, and its principal youth activity. The first part of such a program is to get the common sense to adopt an ordinance providing for the licensing of bicycles, regulation of their use and providing penalties for violations.

Under the terms of the proposed ordinance, no one will be allowed to ride a bicycle on any street or public highway in the city without a license. The provisions of a model ordinance prohibit the riding of a wheel with another person on the handlebars, call for the observance of all traffic signs; the use of a yellow or red light or reflector, visible from 200 feet; no riding abreast of one another and the observance of all traffic rules.

Club to Hold Court

The novel part of the plan is a bicycle court in which the most important functions of the club will be maintained by the members themselves. Alleged offenders will be tried in this court, not in the regular police court. Of course, if the person arrested is not a member of the club he or she will be tried in the regular police court. Such a provision is counted upon to secure a 100 per cent membership for the club.

A fine not to exceed $100 or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days is provided for, but the court may, in lieu of these penalties, suspend the license of any person for not more than 30 days. This latter course will be taken in the club court.

All children between the ages of 5 and 18, exclusive, are eligible for membership in the club. Nine officers will be elected by members to run the organization. They are a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, judge, grand counsel, defense counsel, captain and lieutenants. There will be two patrol officers, to enforce the rules, for each twenty-five members.

cleaned and sills repainted. The building's ventilators also received a coat of paint.

LEAVES OUT THE KNOTS

Clemson College, S. C. — (P) — It takes no longer to grow a pine tree free of knots than it takes to do it once filled with knot holes. Therefore, D. R. Brewster, extension forester, is advising timbermen to prune their pine trees and produce clear lumber which sells for about twice as much as the knotty kind.

Combined Locks Group At Hortonville Picnic

Combined Locks—A picnic was given Sunday at Hortonville by Miss Anna Vanden Wymelenberg for her weekend guests, the Clemens Vanden Wymelenberg and children, Suzanne, Jimmy, Nancy and Carol.

Other picnickers were Mr. and Mrs. John Thurner, Hortonville; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Conard, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Vanden Wymelenberg, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Vanden Wymelenberg, Green Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Naekers and Mr. and Mrs. Elser Vanden Wymelenberg, Wrightstown; the Rev. John De Wilde and Bernard Timmers.

The Rev. Brother John of the Crozier Fathers monastery, Hastings, Neb., visited at the home of the Rev. John De Wilde Friday to make arrangements for Bernard Timmers, nephew of Father De Wilde, who will enter the Crozier monastery in August. Mr. Timmers completed his course at the Crozier college at Onamia, Minn., last June.

Arthur Gossens spent the weekend in Madison with his friends, Roland Vettors, and Jake Stick.

Mrs. Charles Reynolds, Green Bay, who has spent the last several weeks here with her sister, Mrs. Ted Williams, left last weekend for her home in Green Bay.

Mrs. Lucy Schuler left Sunday for Plymouth where she will attend the Mission House conference of the Emmanuel Evangelical Reform church. Mrs. Schuler will attend study classes and discussion groups during the five-day conference.

Miss Marjorie Pien entertained a small group of friends at a party at her home Sunday evening. Informal games were played.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Williams celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary Sunday evening with a small party of relatives.

Items of Interest to Residents of Freedom

Freedom — Miss Dorothy Weyenberg has accepted employment at Appleton.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schelmer on Main street has been almost completed.

Announcement was made at St. Nicholas church Sunday of the coming marriage of Arthur Coffey and Miss Marie Garvey. They were honored at a shower Sunday evening.

Girls to Play in Preliminary Tilt

Game Will Precede State League Battle at Kaukauna Wednesday

Kaukauna—An added attraction to the Kaukauna—New London Northern State league encounter Wednesday night in the form of a softball game between two of the state's classiest girl teams has been arranged to precede the main clash, it was announced yesterday.

The Oshkosh Winnebago girls will play the Green Bay girls. Both teams are tops in their territory. The Oshkosh aggregation having yet to lose a game, and the Green Bay ten being the first half champs in the Fox Valley league.

Two of the Wisconsin's premier hurlers lead the stars of the teams, Kitty Klein flinging for Oshkosh and Val Dombroski, who stars at left-hand ball for the winner, taking the mound for Green Bay.

It will be the first time that girls' softball teams have appeared here, and as the fans will see the Northern league game as the second part of the doubleheader a large crowd is expected. The girls, who play as snappy a game as many men's teams, are decked out in colorful uniforms. The game will begin at 7:30, with the other on tap for 8:30.

Warns Motorists To Reduce Speed Through Villages

Traffic Officers Want Cooperation, Captain Steidl Says

A plea to motorists to cooperate with county police in safe driving was made today by Captain Charles Steidl, who stated that numerous complaints are being made daily regarding the rate of speed used by drivers in villages of the county.

"I have asked for the cooperation of all vehicle drivers in using a safe and sane speed in the villages," he stated. "For the convenience of the traveling public, I had the speed limit in villages increased from 15 to 25 miles per hour. However, I do not get cooperation.

"There is only one way out—the matter rests with the motorists."

Steidl also asks cooperation of farmers who drive cattle along the highway.

"Drive the cattle on the left side of the road, the same side on which you are supposed to walk. Should you see 15 or 20 cars coming along the highway and all over the road, you would immediately ask for a motorcycle officer. Try to keep this in mind, and keep your cattle in line."

Steidl commented that the traffic officers of the county are not on the job to arrest people, but to help them.

HOLLYWOOD LIGHTS CAMERA ACTION! HAPPENINGS

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—The camera stands there with an eye that looks at and through you, and the lights blaze around you, and what you do in the next few minutes—your screen test—will determine whether you go into movies or keep on working.

Would you be nervous? You bet you would. That first screen test is a nightmare, even now to most of the people who've survived it and gone on to fame.

Fred Montgomery's first movie test was simple. He ate an apple. Nobody in the New York studio knew what the picture "The College" was about, so Bob sent out for a bit of fruit and munched it while the camera turned.

Gable Told a Story

Bette Davis's first test—made in Brooklyn—began dramatically, with the little lady fainting, which wasn't in the script. When she'd dusted herself off she made the test, but didn't get the job.

"Just walk, turn, smile, act natural," Lionel Barrymore, directing a silent test, told Clark Gable, but Gable's inability to dispose of his hands made the command hopeless. The wily Lionel stopped the test, started telling stories, which led Gable to tell one—and Lionel signalled for the cameras. Gable's first test showed him spinning a yarn, not acting.

Even in testing, Jimmy Cagney showed his independent spirit. Arrived in Hollywood with a contract, Cagney reported at the studio but the fellow he was supposed to see was late. Jimmy wouldn't wait and when he came back five days later it was too late for a test. He went to work without one.

A Multiple-Tester

About the only test that meant anything to George Brent was the one opposite Ruth Chatterton, whom he was later to marry and divorce. Before that, for several years, Brent had been tested for almost every role that popped up, first at one studio, then at another.

Like Brent, Robert Young was a multiple-tester. Every new girl that came along had Young opposite for her test—but it was the girl's test, not Young's. He made about 150 tests all told—with new comers and with women stars. It was doubling for Garbo in a test—for gowns—that got Karen Morley her own chance.

Pegler Maintains That Head G-Man Is Spoiled

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—It is impossible to deny that, as Edgar Hoover says in an article in Collier's, newspaper reporters sometimes do embarrass the so-called G-men and other police by premature publication of news which tips off criminals that the cops are close. But it is not necessarily true, and Mr. Hoover offers no evidence that the murder of the Levine boy in New Rochelle was caused or hastened by the conduct of the reporter who trapped the child's father into an admission by posing as an agent of the kidnapers in a telephone conversation.

It would seem more likely that in this case and in the Mattson case the criminals never had any intention to return the victims, and killed them as soon as they conveniently could. A captive, living child is a dangerous handicap to a criminal who knows that a murder adds little if anything to the penalty he has already deserved. Mr. Hoover, who boasts that many of his agents are lawyers and that all of them, himself included, know evidence, makes an emotional accusation against the reporters in these two instances, but does not support it with anything that even resembles proof.

Do you want to know something about Mr. Hoover? He is spoiled. The American press has treated him as a sacred cow. His department is still talking about the glamorization of criminals long after the press took to glamorizing him and his men instead. He has been praised in proportion to the very fine feats of detection which his bureau has achieved, and a little beyond, for the G-men have received entire credit for some jobs in which other agencies took part. He is a great personal press agent, and he has pet writers, or stooges with access to big newspaper and magazine circulation who scratch his back in return for material that glorifies Edgar Hoover and the G. S. Reporters' Enterprise Has Done Many Things.

I would like to point out, too, that Mr. Hoover himself has indicated more than once, there are a lot of crooked police and prosecutors serving crooked politicians in various cities in this country, and that, as he failed to point out, newspaper reporters often have turned up and called irresistible public attention to evidence which local officials were trying to ignore or were too stupid to discover. The Hall-Mills case in New Brunswick, N. J., was so badly handled that it was only in response to the work of reporters that the body of Mrs. Mills was exhumed after some time to reveal the fact that she had been not only shot but almost beheaded by a knife it was the enterprise of a newspaper that compelled the prosecution of Walter Ward in White Plains after the local authorities had dropped proceedings against the son of a millionaire in a slight case of murder. There have been many such incidents.

As Mr. Hoover has reason to know, the police of Kansas City are the minions of the most corrupt politico-underworld machine that this country has produced since the day in Minneapolis when

Lost Telegram Cuts Badger Hunting Season

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington—Because a telegram arrived from the Wisconsin conservation department only at the last minute, and then was lost somewhere in the vast maze of the United States Department of Agriculture, Wisconsin hunters may shoot woodcock only between Oct. 17 and Oct. 31, instead of during the whole month of October.

But next year, they can have the entire month, the bureau of the biological survey assured today.

This week, the Wisconsin conservation department again requested the change which had been asked in the lost telegram, upon recommendation of 46 Wisconsin counties, but the long process required for a change was cited as the reason for not granting a request to which the biological survey has no objection otherwise.

The season in Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota and other states is the entire month of October.

Wisconsin Brewers Buy Barley at Home. State Probe Reveals

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A message from the state department of agriculture and markets with special interest for Senator John E. Cashman of Denmark: Wisconsin brewers and maltsters are buying their barley and barley malt at home.

Following an investigation made at the state's ports of entry, the department said today, it has been learned that no imported barley or barley malt was purchased by the brewing industry during the quarter ended July 1.

During the 1937 legislative session, Senator Cashman frequently charged that large quantities of foreign barley, particularly from Canada, were being purchased by the Wisconsin beverage industry. Cashman is the author of a law which requires brewers and maltsters to report the source of all their barley purchases.

Simple Measures Help to Prevent "Mystery" Fires

Conflagrations From Unknown Causes Often Result From Carelessness

Thoughtfulness and carefulness in the home will help take much of the "mystery" out of spontaneous ignition or fires reported from unknown causes. H. A. Klemm, director of safety education for the state industrial commission, says in a bulletin received by Fire Chief George P. McGillan.

Proper curing, careful speeding, and drying of hay, especially clover, with good ventilation of hay lofts are a few of the best known preventatives of hay-loft fires, Klemm says.

"A fire occurs in some American home every two minutes," he states. "About two-thirds of the Wisconsin fires are in places of human abode representing nearly half of the states fire loss. The majority of deaths by fire occur in homes, and fully three-fourths of these victims are women and children."

Home fire causes are readily discovered and preventive measures are simple, Klemm points out. In many instances the home owner knows that the chimney of his stove or furnace are rusted, but does nothing about them.

Many rural home owner takes a chance that he will not have a fire and does not take the simple precautions of having a fire extinguisher, ladders and a good lighting rod system, Klemm remarked.

DO THE WORKERS CRAVE STRIKES?

The country is protected by act of congress passed some years ago against the great loss that would ensue from a quick trigger railroad strike.

The procedure works out in this fashion as applied to the prevailing dispute—the railroads decided a wage cut of 15 per cent was essential to save them from a united collapse, whereupon a conference became necessary between the management and the unions. All men know that conferences which include a discussion by each side of the other's claims often bring settlements satisfactory to all concerned.

But in case that pleasant result fails to mature there is provided by law the Federal Mediation Board which seeks from the broken pieces to create if possible a formula of solution. If this attempt fails, however, the railroads and the unions will be asked to arbitrate their differences. If they consent to arbitration the dispute is ended when the arbitrators bring in their report. If either side declines to arbitrate, the President will appoint a committee to ascertain and set up the actual facts in order that the public may sweep aside the many and bewildering charges and countercharges, and form a conclusion based as nearly as possible upon actuality.

That is a picture of intelligence enthroned.

But substitute for that situation a Chevrolet plant in Detroit, a Maytag plant in Iowa, or ships arriving in port heavy with freight. And immediately we abandon our cool intellectual processes and begin picking up stones and clubs.

At Maytag for instance a 10 per cent wage cut was posted on the bulletin board. No notice was required other than the dread news itself. It probably shocked the workers as though someone had tumbled a barrel of ice water on them. They wouldn't stand for it. And that is the natural answer the world over of worker and employer alike when suddenly and unceremoniously confronted with a sharp reversal of fortunes.

So, of course, there was a strike. The men lost about half a million dollars in wages. The management at least didn't make anything. The town was in a turmoil. The whole affair was handled from start to finish just about the way our cave-man ancestors might have handled a grievance. The quarrel even went to the stage of abolishing constitutional privileges. Then, under the force and anxiety created by guns and gas and bayonets it was suddenly adjusted and probably unjustly.

Note the difference in the two forms of disputes. In the railway controversy the nearly one million men are kept at work. Trains run. Freight and passengers are moved. There is no evidence of the primitive instincts gaining the ascendancy.

Yet there is no force used upon the workers. They are asked only by the law to follow a formula that has generally brought peace and with it the contentment for which we supposedly strive. The difference between the railway situation and a common one is that about a dozen years ago railway unions, railway management and some very sincere congressmen got together to create the present law fearful perhaps of the dire consequences of a general railroad strike to everyone in the country.

With the ordinary plant all the provisions of the railway act are not necessary, but the principle would be a great boon to the workers above all others.

Why must the nation continue to wallow along like an old sow in a cross sea employing a procedure called the Wagner law which might have been written by sabertoothed tigers if sabertoothed tigers wrote?

THE JAP-SOVIET CLASH

There is much more to the fierce border clashes between Japan and Russia than either means or hostility between the two nations.

There is Tokyo's inability to control its splendid and high-spirited Kwantung army of about half a million soldiers that have been used to clear, police, subdue and control Manchukuo. And there is the critical importance of a hilly region called Changkufeng which will play a vital part in the real and final clash between these two countries for which both have been preparing at full speed and of which the Chinese invasion is but a preliminary.

Russia appears to have good title to the disputed strip. It bases its claim upon a treaty which it made with China in 1886. Since China was undisputed owner of the area at that time it is not seen how Japan by divesting her forcibly of Manchuria 7 years ago has thereby become entitled to tell her victim that she gave too much to Russia 50 years ago.

The Kwantung army, however, sees the vital need of this area in preparing to measure strength with the Soviets in a future battle. The area commands Possiet Bay, an important submarine base, on the one hand, and likewise towers over on the opposite side the important Japanese railway but 7 miles away. This railway was recently built by the Japs in the legitimate commercial purpose of destroying the importance of Vladivostok as an outlet for the great and extensive plains and valleys of nearby Japanese controlled areas. It would open up the Japanese port Rashin which enjoys another distinction over Vladivostok in that it has winter shipping without calling on ice-breakers.

Obviously when Russia started fortifying these hills Japan realized, all too late, that its vital railway was at its enemy's mercy, and that if it could wrest the Changkufeng district from Soviet hold it could prevent the Reds from making Possiet Bay into a submarine base or control it for the same purpose on its own account.

It is not at all unlikely that the Kwantung army has moved to take over this district irrespective of Russia's legal rights and entirely on its own hook. Tokyo has shown to date a wise and profound purpose to avoid trouble with all other nations because she realizes her hands are full in China. The excellent Kwantung army is a powerful weapon to hold in reserve as against unforeseen eventualities, but to throw it needlessly against the army Russia maintains in the Far East would be foolish in the extreme since he who fights one enemy at a time is much more likely to succeed than he who throws down the gauntlet to all potential enemies at once.

Russia's restraint in the face of the almost unparalleled provocation to war may be traced not only to the inherent fear that Soviet leaders nourish that their regime will collapse in case of conflict but they may continue to look toward Berlin with a good deal of apprehension for the Hitler government has shown surprising agility in grabbing something for itself the moment its ancient enemies are concerned in other difficulties.

Russia has apparently mapped out its course for world conflict and conquest with the expectation of never itself declaring war and never as a nation becoming involved in one.

Moscow works patiently and persistently to this end. It helped Barcelona generously. But when submarines, which it well knew belonged to Rome, sank its ships and slew its subjects it roared but did nothing. It has prepared in this same deceptive manner for Japan by arming, training and supervising vast Mongol hordes whose territory lies west and south of Manchukuo. And now, since the Chinese are popular the world over in this struggle for their existence it is openly supplying them with war equipment as fast as it can get the same to them.

Wisely has Russia figured that her future lies in Asia. The conflict in Europe she knows is too formidable for her. Her emissaries there, scattered in every capital, have been unable to find fertile soil for the seeds of discord. To the European, however, distraught, Russia has absolutely nothing to offer but misery.

But Asia is another story. And the majority of Russians are Asiatic in origin and belong in the Orient.

Besides the East offers rare inducements for communism in the shape of unlettered millions, traditionally warring tribes and Japanese greed and duplicity. Thus there are buffer states galore and there is but one real danger spot, down there where Siberia dips into the Pacific and borders upon Japanese provinces.

But when Japan has conquered China and taken the necessary respite to fill her granary and the depleted ranks of her army she is likely to open up an attack upon Russia that may spread far into Europe, which is, after all, but an extension of the Asiatic continent.

NEW HOME

They are going to housekeeping at last! They have lived with his folks for years. But the difficult problem solved at last. How jeezous the future appears!

They are choosing their furnishings with care. The lamps and the breakfast dishes. Each table and rug and walnut chair. Must match all their secret wishes.

It is just like a second honeymoon. Her eyes are like deep brown wells. And her heart hums a happy little tune. For the joy the new home foretells!

We are sharing the hopes her plans arouse. And join in her happy laughter! May peace fold its wings above her house. And the same love follow after!

SLOW DRIVERS

Leutenant McCarty, of the Indianapolis police accident prevention bureau, says the slow driver who clings to the center lane of traffic is more dangerous than one who spins around a corner on two wheels. "The center-lane drivers force the motorists following them to drive at slow speed also," he says, "or to violate the law by passing on the right side of the street or across the yellow line. They unquestionably comprise the most dangerous type of auto driver."

The state law and the city traffic code provide penalties for such driving. Before the days of codes and regulatory laws the rule of the road was "keep to the right." The state highway commission attempts to enforce this com-

Dale Harrison's In Old New York

New York—The smallest deputy sheriff in the United States is in New York. He is Vance Swift, and he's 30 inches high.

The press agent who rushed over all althair to give me this little gem of an item urged me to state that the little deputy sheriff is also a magician appearing with "Rose's Parisian Mid-Get Follies," but I'm darned if I see what that's got to do with it.

The little deputy's bellwink is Queens county which is where the 1939 World's Fair will be held. It is also where I live, if anybody wants to make something of it. The officials had to have some reason for appointment the mid-get deputy sheriff, so they announce that Queens is alive with midgets. Further more, when the Fair opens, there are expected to be still more midgets. I may have to move. Midgets get in my hair.

The 30-inch deputy is expected to preserve order, which ought to be easy on account of I never heard of a midget disturbing the peace.

Either New York is screwy or I am. I guess there's lots of argument on both sides. I mean I must be screwy or I wouldn't be frittering away my time with a fellow like Lionel White. He is the strangest fellow! Know what? He hasn't got a book. So help me. Not one book!

"I am the only citizen of New York with any pretensions of being erudite, who hasn't a volume of any kind in my apartment." That's what he said, word for word.

Lionel is an editor. I always thought editors had books. I suspected that most of them seldom read any, but I felt morally certain they surely owned some.

Mr. White not only is an editor, he is an author. He actually writes books. I wonder who he thinks will buy his books if he isn't interested enough to have them in his own house? Such a person!

"In my day," says Mr. White, "I have read books. I forget the names, but I read 'em. I had one once with the prettiest red jacket on it you ever saw. It had a picture of a woman jumping off a precipice. I think most women should jump off precipices, don't you?"

That's the way he talks; hops from one subject to another and says awful things. I certainly do not think women should jump off precipices, Mr. White. Why—why—, it isn't right.

"A gent who writes should never read," he said. "It puts ideas into his head. Writers should never have ideas. It makes an editor's job too difficult. Editors can't digest ideas. They choke on them. I think all editors should choke, don't you?"

Mr. White, please!

I used to write stories for Lionel; detective stories. I confess this because I want you to know the real me. I want you to know I wasn't always the gay troubadour of letters whom you now know. I wrote pieces about haunted houses, villains, gang carnage and just plain murderers. There was a time when I couldn't sleep nights unless my typewriter had slain half a dozen citizens.

Lionel did me the honor to say I murdered with an artistic bluntness that left no doubt about the matter. Every time one of my characters got executed I always had a pool of blood handy. If a guy's going to get murdered, it might as well be good, I always said.

Lionel is now editing a magazine called Crime Detective, which he assures me will drip with gore. "I shall rip the lid off sin in all its nefarious forms," he explained. Then he added: "There is nothing quite so restful as a good murder, don't you think?"

It is surprising how few presumably literary people do not read books. I read little current literature. I tell myself I haven't time. What reading I do is confined to favorite authors. Them I read over and over. DeMaupassant, O. Henry, Edgar Saltus, Shakespeare.

Lionel White says he used to read Shakespeare, too.

"What a crime story writer!" he exulted. "Boy, could that guy slay 'em!"

My friend Mr. White is a very strange fellow.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO
Tuesday, Aug. 7, 1928

The conclusion that a new Appleton High school would have to be built before much time elapsed was reached at the meeting of the board of education and city council committees concerned with the problem of the new Appleton High school in the office of Superintendent Ben J. Rohan the previous evening.

Mrs. G. E. Buchanan and son, James, had returned from Plum Lake where they had been visiting the Misses Josephine and Betty Buchanan at Warwick Woods camp.

The qualifying round of the annual club championship at Butte des Morts golf course was to be played Saturday and Sunday. Ken Dickinson, state champion in 1925 and a former Northwestern Wisconsin champion, won the tournament the previous year.

What was probably the oldest saloon in Kaukauna went out of business last week and a grocery store was to be started in the building by the former proprietor, Anton Lemke.

25 YEARS AGO
Tuesday, Aug. 12, 1913

Edward Mumm, well known musician in this city and leader of the Appleton band and orchestra, left the previous Saturday to join a musical trio in Chicago which was in the Orpheum circuit.

Howard Watson of Kaukauna, who graduated from Lawrence college that year, had accepted a position with a stock company in California and was making good on the "age that summer."

Schlafel Hardware company had purchased a strip on land between Bates and Superior streets next to the Chicago and North Western tracks and had begun dismantling buildings there to make room for a fireproof warehouse and workshop.

Among the Appleton people who attended the Perry Centennial at Green Bay were Acting Chief Michael Garver, D. J. Boyle, Ed. O'Keefe and family, A. A. Raisher, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emder, Emil Vockes, George Downer and Mrs. George Perry.

non sense method of driving by installing signs that say center lanes are to be used for passing only and that at other times the motorists are to use the right side of the highway. The same principles were incorporated in the city's code when streets were widened and more than two lanes became available.

The motorist who constantly keeps in the center of a street is something of a menace when he drives as rapidly as the business and residential maximum limits of twenty and thirty miles an hour permit. The probability that he may be the cause of an accident increases when he drives at ten or fifteen miles an hour in a district where thirty miles is permitted. The law forbids obstructing traffic and provides punishment for imprudent and unreasonable driving, "whether fast or slow."—The Indianapolis News.

Because of the numerous accidents to bicyclists, The British Transport Advisory council recommends that cycle tracks be provided on both sides of the main roads in that country.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—If you were a government clerk in Washington with an income of $2,000 a year, a sore appendix, a wife with an oncoming baby, and no rich uncle, probably you would join the Group Health Association if it promised to take care of your medical needs for $2.20 a month, $3.30 including family.

That situation in a nutshell, is what started the controversy between Washington's Group Health Association and the American Medical Association, a controversy which is now on the way to being a history-making anti-trust battle.

Group Health, counseled by the Twentieth Century fund, an endowed research organization, offered its members hospitalization and full medical and surgical care for this small monthly sum. It was altogether a voluntary organization but in a few months, 2,500 federal employees had joined. These, with their families amounted to 6,000 potential patients.

The District (of Columbia) Medical Society, an AMA affiliate, promptly attacked the plan as leading toward the compulsory medical insurance systems in vogue in Germany and elsewhere in Europe. Such systems they denounced as undermining high standards of medical practice and likely to break down the close relationship of the physician and his patient.

Besides, here was a group with steady earnings snatched right out of the teeth of "regular" physicians, leaving them still with the burden of caring for the indigent without the sustaining aid of bill-paying patients.

Enter the Government

The Medical Society took steps. It threatened expulsion of the dozen or so physicians employed in the group health clinic here. Expulsion is truly serious for a physician. Further, the hospitals, following the pattern of the physicians practicing in them, declined to permit Group Health physicians to operate in them.

That was a sore handicap. To fulfill its obligations, Group Health had to call on "outside" physicians at regular fees for needed surgery for their members since G-H physicians could not have access to the hospitals.

In steps Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions. In a public statement he charges the Medical Society action constitutes violation of the anti-trust laws by depriving certain physicians of a right to practice their profession.

Nonsense, replies American Medical Association. Can't the AMA decide who will be members, and can't hospitals decide who may have access to them?

What menace do "regular" physicians see in Group Health?

—They say such low fees can't support full medical coverage. It will necessitate ultimate government subsidy. Malingering patients will take advantage. In Germany, for instance, they say workers are "sick" twice as often and twice as long as in America because it is nice to loaf in a hospital.

—Federal intervention means political control of medicine, a glare-eyed bugaboo to the medical profession.

What do Group-Healthers reply?

—They are "delivering the goods" by providing the medical care promised—as far as the hospital restrictions will permit. By assuring ready access to "preventive" medicine, they hope to reduce the total illnesses. Clinical practice reduces lost time on the part of physicians, so makes them more efficient, permits them to handle more patients, at resulting lower costs. They seem to agree that perhaps present fees are low.

—Group-Healthers, and many high ranking "regular" physicians are not panicked by federal intervention.

What's coming of it?

The District Medical Society points to steps taken here before the advent of Group Health, by which they sought to extend medical aid to the low paid. Admittedly they have become more active in that direction since.

Both in and out of Group Health is freely admitted that radical changes in medical practice are on the way.

Invents Gadget to Pick Up Airmail Without Stop

Centralia, Ill. —(P)—E. J. White has worked out a gadget which he says will enable an airplane to discharge and receive mail in one operation, without landing.

The device, which works satisfactorily with a model, includes a V-shaped "station" which would be mounted on top of a building. The "V" would be wide enough for the pilot to hit his mark with a dangling mail sack. When the sack hit the point of the "V," it would be discharged and the other sack would be picked up, all in one operation.

White has received a patent on his gadget, he says patents have been granted for nine similar devices, but that none was satisfactory in actual operation.

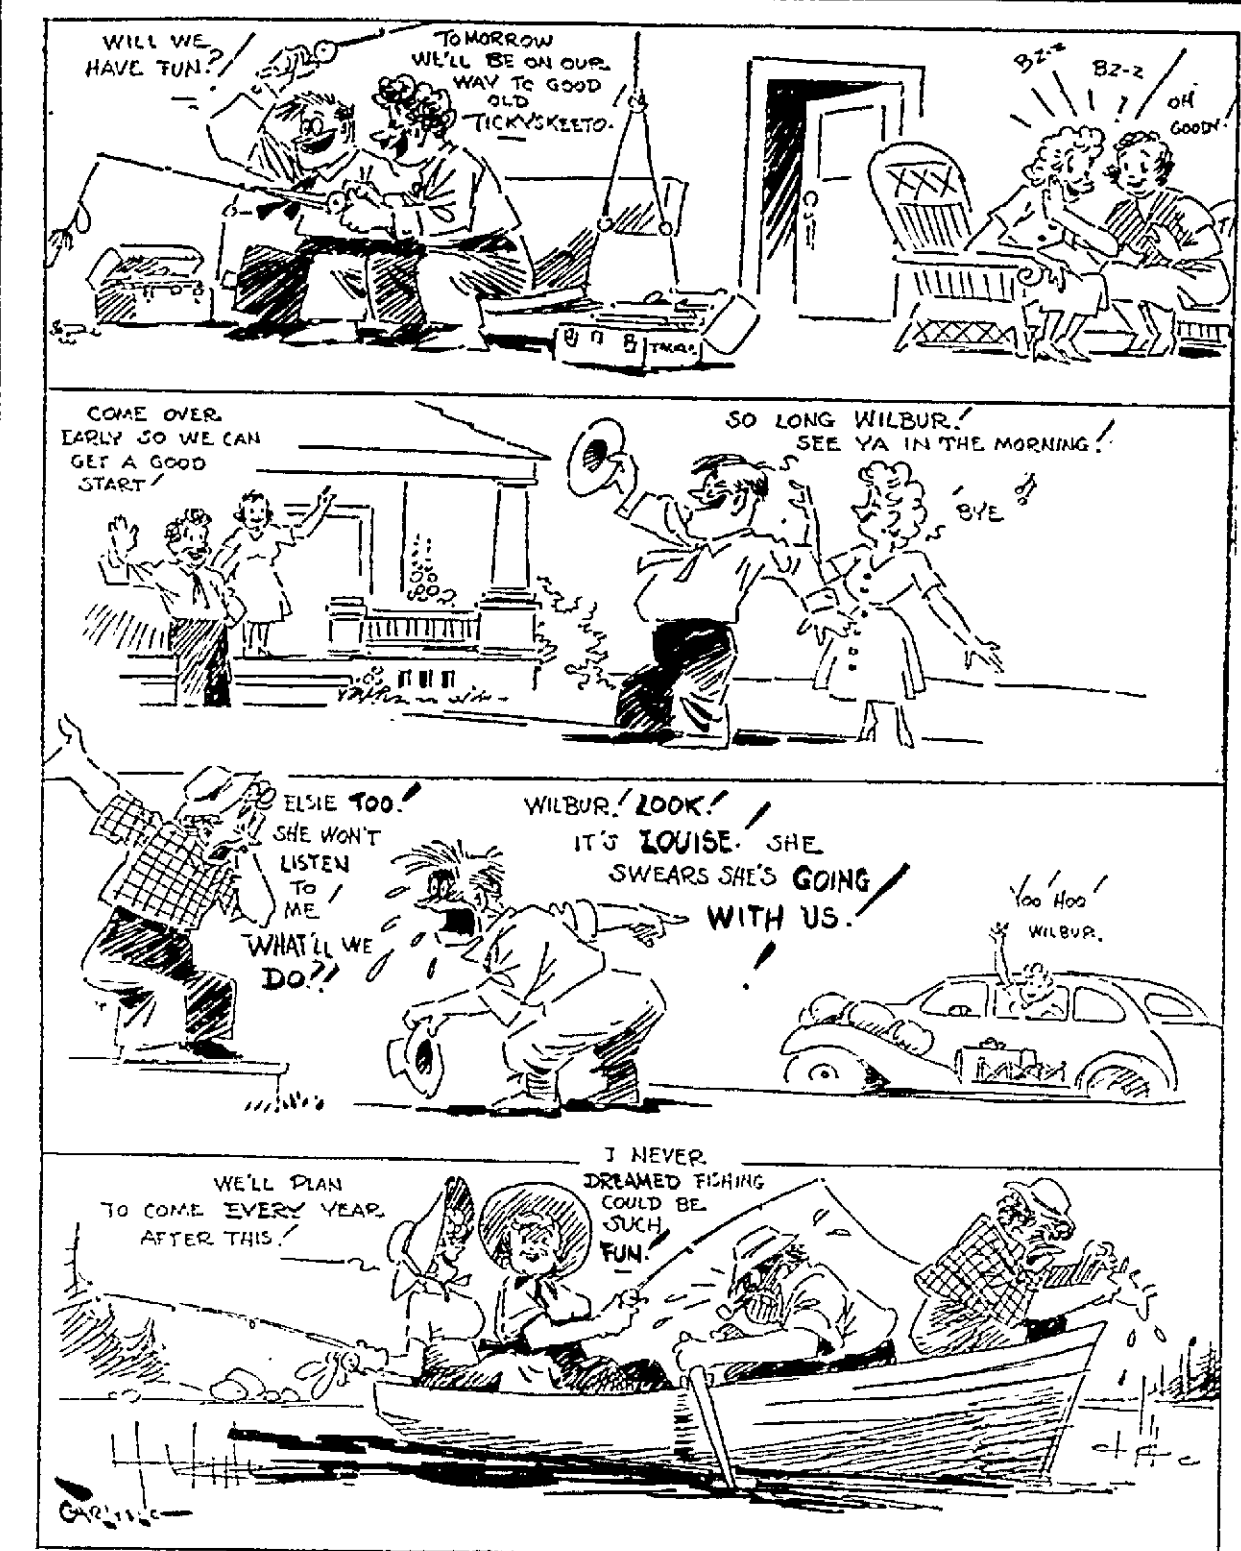

RAILWAY CAGEY

Pueblo, Colo. —(P)—When President Roosevelt visited Colorado recently the Denver and Rio Grande western railroad made sure that every member of the train crew was a Democrat.

Frank L. Engle, secretary of the Pueblo county Democratic central committee, a locomotive engineer, piloted, the presidential special through the winding Royal Gorge west of Pueblo.

The engineer on the train that preceded the special through the gorge—was that the line was clear—was Thomas F. Martin, a brother of John E. Martin, Colorado congressman.

Your Birthday

"LEO"

If August 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a. m.; from 3:15 to 5:15 p. m.; and from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a. m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p. m., and from 9:15 to 11:15 p. m.

Be careful not to permit interruptions to interfere with whatever you have to do today. It might be well not to hesitate to be frank with people whom you find have no consideration for your time and place no value upon their own. There may prevail among mothers, an inclination to pamper their children today. This will be a mistake for the average child. "If given an inch, he'll take an ell." If you keep your eyes open, you may find many indications as to the right course to pursue in both your social and business activities today. Complications are not likely to arise that cannot be handled successfully if you will apply yourself to their solution and refrain from trusting someone else to solve it for you. Married and engaged couples and those fervently in love, must not take for granted that their loyalty, devotion, and sentimental regard are so well known and accepted that there is no need them. This is likely to be a day when both words and actions may be needed to bring happiness to your beloved one.

If a woman and August 10 is your birthday, all that you need, to be successful, is a sufficient amount of self-confidence and ambition to make you fight for whatever you want. You must not allow opposition or obstacles to discourage you. You ought to be an optimist by nature, and should have enough strength of character to enable you to overcome any recognized weaknesses. Unexpected prosperity may help to make you a very happy woman. Through office, restaurant or specialty shop management, writing, singing, the playing of a musical instrument, or selling, your most ambitious dreams may come true. In all likelihood you have the abil-

SIX QUARTS OF BLOOD

Approximately one-eleventh of the weight of a healthy body is blood. The quantity of blood in the body of a healthy adult as determined by measurement and by estimates is from 10 to 12 pints.

Drinking water and other fluids, even in large amounts, dilutes the blood very little. The water is quickly passed through the kidneys and some of it is temporarily stored in the tissues of the body. If as much as five quarts of water is drunk in a period of two hours, it is completely eliminated within the next 4 or 5 hours, through the kidneys and through the skin and through the lungs as water vapor, without any appreciable dilution of the blood having occurred.

If large amounts of fluid are lost from the body by sweating, whether the sweating is induced by some form of bath or by hot weather or by vigorous exercise, the blood volume is preserved by taking fluid back into the blood from the tissue spaces. Weight temporarily lost by sweating is made up within several hours, certainly within a day, by increased intake of fluid either by drinking water or in foods that contain considerable water.

A solution of approximately two teaspoonfuls of common table salt, sodium chloride, in a quart of pure water is of nearly the same saline strength as the blood. This is properly called physiologic salt solution (sometimes improperly "normal" salt solution). Such physiological salt solution is fairly palatable if taken slowly. If a quart is drunk in an hour or less there is little elimination of water for many hours. But if physiological salt solution is injected into a vein elimination of water through the kidneys is promptly increased and all of the water so ejected is passed out of the body within three hours. The reason for this difference is not clearly understood.

Men working in extreme heat and sweating freely are likely to suffer cramps if they drink as much water as they crave for relief of thirst. The water fails to fresh them too. But if they make it a rule to take some salt with each drink of cold water, the water not only refreshes but they are much less liable to suffer from cramps or to have heat exhaustion if exposed to sun. The salt helps to keep more water in the blood and tissues. It is now the best industrial practice to provide suitable vending machines alongside the water fountains so that a salt tablet may be taken with every drink of water. People who are exposed to great heat or sunlight should remember this.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Ear Plugs

Saw picture of young woman who, working nights, had to sleep in the daytime, and used some kind of rubber plugs in her ears to shut out noises and a black mask over her eyes to shut out bright light. Can you tell me what kind of ear plugs to use for such purpose? (H. L. J.)

Answer—Such ear plugs or some plastic material are sold in drug-stores and sporting goods stores for swimmers and for people who wish to dampen noises while they sleep.

Left-Handed

Older daughter, twelve, right-handed. Younger, eight, eats with right hand, but prefers to write with left. Seems awkward. Get very nervous and cries when we tell her to use whichever hand is easier. She is very bright in school but we fear she will become nervous. (Mrs. J. P.)

Answer—I advise you to pay no further attention and do not permit others to comment on or attempt to correct the child—let her use her hands as she prefers for writing or other skillful acts.

Hemophilia

My wife's elder brother was a "bleeder." So far as we know he was the only one in the family so affected. How can we tell whether she has any such taint or will pass it on to her children? (G. T.)

Answer—If the family history is not unknown, the chances are that it is not the familiar deficiency at all. The subject is more thoroughly discussed in the new edition of "Blood and Health" just issued. For copy send ten cents coin and stamped envelope bearing your address. True hemophilia, the bleeder state, is transmitted from parent to child—but generally females have it in a latent, not active form, and pass it to their male children in the active form.

Smith Retires After 55 Years Without Losing Day

Don Leary of Janesville, 72 come Sept. 18, and credited by a trade journal with being the oldest man in point of service at his blacksmithing trade in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois, has retired after 55 consecutive years in which he did not miss a day's work because of illness.

He began work in Darlington, LaFayette county, and thereafter labored in Milwaukee and Janesville, but most of the time in Janesville. He saw the handwriting on the wall for the blacksmith's trade 15 years ago and began branching out. Two years ago he sharpened 3,500 Rock county plowshares. In the old days he could make from $25 to $60 per day shoeing horses, but he shed his last horse 15 years ago. One son, Ray, is Milwaukee city engineer.

Thirteen County Candidates File Nomination Papers

Deadline for Entering Field Closes at Midnight Tonight

Thirteen candidates for county offices filed nomination papers for the primary election at the office of John E. Hantschel, Outagamie county clerk, yesterday afternoon and this morning. Candidates have until midnight tonight to get their papers to the county clerk's office.

No new candidates have appeared in the election field as the time for filing papers draws to a close. The Progressives, in particular, have been inactive. Anton Miller, route 1, Kaukauna, is the only one who filed papers up to this noon. He is seeking the office of assembly in the Second district.

President office holders who still are unopposed for reelection have been watching the filing of nomination papers closely and today were hopeful that they will have a clear field.

Candidates filing papers yesterday and this morning include John E. Hantschel, Republican, for county clerk; Ray L. Feuerstein, Democrat for treasurer; John Lappen, Republican, for sheriff; Robert O. Smith, Unionite, for assessor; Mark Catlin, Jr., Republican, for assessor from the First district; Gerald Jolin, Democrat, for assessor from the First district; Stephen M. Peeters, Republican, for register of deeds; Arthur L. Collier, Democrat, for register of deeds; Sydney Shannon, Republican, for clerk of court; Robert M. Connelly, Democrat, for surveyor; Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, Republican, for coroner; Russell Johnson, Democrat, for coroner; and Raymond P. Dohr, Democrat for district attorney.

Survivors are the widower; one daughter, Doris, at home; one son, Robert, at home; her mother, Mrs. Bertha Klitzke, Appleton; two brothers, William and Harry Klitzke, Osborn; two sisters, Mrs. Gust Henke and Mrs. John Henke, Center.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at Brett Schneider Funeral home and burial will be at Riverside cemetery.

Urgent Problems Face Roosevelt Upon His Return

Reports Await President's Perusal After Tropical Vacation

Washington—(AP)—President Roosevelt will delve into pressing economic problems as soon as he returns here Friday from his tropical vacation.

He will find on his big oval desk a stack of reports telling, among other things, of progress in the spending program, preliminary arrangements for wage-hour administration, and the status of the anti-trust inquiry.

Even before Mr. Roosevelt reaches Washington he will receive a report on what he has termed the nation's "No. 1 economic problem"—conditions in the south. He will study it tomorrow at Warm Springs, Ga., and may discuss it in one of his Georgia speeches Thursday.

The survey was prepared by the national emergency council.

Mr. Roosevelt left Washington early last month just after the spending-lending program had started. During his absence all the agencies concerned have been working at top speed and have the program well under way.

WPA Rolls Enlarged

The public works administration, for example, has authorized construction projects costing more than $1,000,000. The Reconstruction has thrown its resources behind the PWA, making possible an expansion of the original pump-priming operations.

Rolls of the works progress administration have been enlarged until they include more than 2,850,000 persons. Administrator Harry Hopkins said recently, however, that he was optimistic over employment conditions.

Officials of the commerce department and other federal agencies also have predicted improvement in business this fall. Government economists estimated the national income for 1938 would exceed $61,000,000,000, an increase of $5,000,000,000 over a winter estimate by the president.

In the president's absence the antitrust committee of six congressmen and six federal officials has begun research in a half-dozen phases of the monopoly problem. Hearings, however, will not begin until fall.

Former Appleton Resident in Ohio Race for Congress

E. C. Clevenger, Bryan, Ohio, businessman and a former department manager of the Pettibone-Peabody company, Appleton, is a candidate in the congressional race in the Fifth district, Ohio, in the primary tomorrow on the Republican ticket. Clevenger left Appleton more than 20 years ago.

Clevenger entered the race as an outright and forthright opponent of the New Deal. He contends that the New Deal does not represent the Democratic party.

Plant 50,000 Fish in Vicinity of Oshkosh

Conservation officials at Oshkosh planted 50,000 fish at lakes in that vicinity this week.

The shipment of the fish came from a hatchery at Phlox, Wis., and included black bass, perch, blue gills, and crappies. They were planted in Lakes Winneconne, Butte des Morts, and Winnebago.

Senator Mike Mack Is In Improved Condition

The condition of Senator Mike Mack, chairman of the Outagamie county board, who is ill at the community hospital, New London, was reported somewhat improved today. He was still not allowed to have visitors today.

ed at 1:45 Thursday afternoon at the residence and at 2 o'clock at Zion Lutheran church by the Rev. Theodore Marth. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery. The body will be at the residence from this evening until time of funeral services.

DRAWING OF PROPOSED CLUBHOUSE AND SLIPS

Pictured above is a drawing of the clubhouse and some of the boat slips which will be built at the Appleton Yacht club near Lutz park, providing PWA approves a grant requested by the city of Appleton.

The plans call for a horseshoe-shaped structure, with the clubhouse nearest shore and the slips built out from it. There will also be accommodations for boats under the clubhouse.

The council at its last meeting authorized the mayor and clerk to prepare a PWA application for the project. The slips would be rented by boat owners.

Conservation Club Will Map Plans for Jamboree

The Outagamie Conservation club will map plans for a jamboree on Stroebe's Island Sunday, Aug. 21, at a meeting tonight at the courthouse. Various contests for both adults and children will be held at the jamboree.

Expect Weather To be Unsettled

Sun Boosts Mercury to 92-Degree Mark at Noon Today

Ol' Sol was out to break all high temperature records today and was well on his way with a mark of 92 degrees at noon but cloudy skies and thunderstorms set in early this afternoon and nullified his efforts. The weatherman was in doubt about prospects of relief from the oppressive heat and ventured a prediction of unsettled weather for Appleton and vicinity.

Somewhat warmer temperatures were forecast for the west and south portions of the state Wednesday. High and low temperatures during the 24 hours preceding 9 o'clock this morning were 83 degrees at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and 67 at midnight, according to records at the power plant of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company.

Maximum and minimum temperatures for the nation yesterday were at Dodge City, Iowa, and Kansas City with 102 degrees and Winemucca, Nev., and Roseburg, Ore., with 50 degrees, according to the Associated Press.

Witness Testifies She Saw Carroll in Parked Car Night of Littlefield Murder

South Paris, Maine—(AP)—A state witness today placed Francis M. Carroll "in a parked car" on a road behind the home of Paul N. Dwyer the night Dr. James G. Littlefield was strangled in the Dwyer home.

Carroll is on trial on a charge of slaying the doctor, a crime for which 19-year-old Dwyer already is serving a life sentence after a confession he made, he said, under the fear for his life.

The witness, Miss Hazel Talbot, twenty-third to testify for the state, said she believed Carroll was alone when she saw him in the car the night of Oct. 13.

Another witness, Robert Pierce, said he saw a black automobile near the Dwyer home that night, but could not recognize Carroll as the man he saw in it.

Cigarette Lighter Clue
A deputy sheriff, Clark C. Hunt, testified he was with Carroll frequently in 1937, when Carroll also was a deputy, and often saw Carroll using a cigarette lighter similar to one offered in evidence as found at the Dwyer home.

Hunt said he had not seen Carroll use the lighter after Oct. 13.

Yesterday, E. Walker Abbott, Dwyer's attorney during the youth's trial last November, said Dwyer had dramatically reversed his plea of innocence because he said Carroll threatened to kill him and his mother if he continued to fight the charge.

Two weeks earlier, Abbott said, Dwyer had told him Carroll—encouraged by the doctor's threats to send him to prison for alleged maltreatment of his daughter, Barbara—only throttled the elderly physician, 67, but two days later garrotted his 63-year-old wife.

Ready-to-Wear Shops Will Offer Bargains

A group of ladies ready-to-wear shops in the city will sponsor an end-of-season clearance sale Thursday, it was announced today. Complete information on the bargains offered by the participating shops will be carried in tomorrow evening's Post-Crescent.

The stores participating are Fussfield's, Fashion Shop, Grace's Apparel Shop, Robinhood Dress Shop, Unique Frock Shoppe, Mae Frick Corset Shop, Four Seasons Shop, Alberta Frock Shop, and Kanouses.

Soviet Artillery Pounds Japs on Changkufeng Hill

defenses on the south-west shore of Possiet bay and were concentrating cavalry, artillery and tanks there.

Possiet bay, several miles east of the disputed Siberian-Korean border zone where Russian-Japanese incidents which led to heavy fighting, have been going on since July 11, is said to be one of the soviet's strategic naval and airplane bases.

An army communique said two battalions of soviet infantry attacked Suilufen, a hill six miles north of Schachofeng, which the Russians occupied July 29 and lost again July 31. This was the first time fighting extended to Suilufen.

A war office spokesman expressed belief the concentrations at Possiet bay did not mean the abandonment of soviet positions near Changkufeng, the disputed border hill which Japanese took from the Russians, along with Schachofeng.

Wider Front Seen
He said he believed it meant the extension of the whole front, although he said soviet forces were withdrawing some troops from Changkufeng. Japanese said the Russians lost 1,500 men in battles for Changkufeng since July 29.

The opposing infantry units were quiet this afternoon but sporadic exchanges by artillery were made. One heavy soviet shell struck a passenger train several miles behind the lines.

"I believe the civilian casualties will be heavy," the spokesman said. Diplomatic negotiations between Tokio and Moscow were expected to be resumed. The foreign office said Maximium Litvinoff, Russian foreign affairs commissar, agreed in principle to a Japanese request that a joint border commission re-survey the frontier zone, which each country claims.

Dispatches from Yuki, Korea, near the Siberian frontier, quoted two young soviet deserters as saying that more than 140 Russian fighting planes were stationed at Spassk, 350 miles north of Changkufeng.

Polakowski Candidate For State Senate Seat

Milwaukee—(AP)—Walter Polakowski, former state senator as a member of the Socialist party, announced today his candidacy for the Progressive nomination for state senator in the Seventh district. He recently resigned from the Farmer-Labor-Progressive federation which he asserted had become a "political plaything" for Governor LaFollette.

200 Youngsters Enrol in Menasha Swimming Classes

Girls Begin Use of Pool at New School Today: Boys Tomorrow

Menasha—Nearly 200 youngsters of the Menasha public and parochial schools registered for the swimming classes to be offered in the Menasha High school pool Monday, according to Coach N. A. Calder. One hundred ninety registrations were received while late entries during the week are expected to bring the total above 200.

The boys classes will be in charge of Mr. Calder. He will be assisted by George Shaw. Miss Sarah Heckrodt will have charge of the girls classes and will be assisted by Carol Peterson.

The girls classes opened today and will be conducted on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays hereafter. Boys classes will be held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Each group will be allowed an hour in the pool, starting with the younger children in the 9 o'clock group. Another group will be admitted at 10 o'clock in the morning. In the afternoon groups will be admitted at 2 o'clock, 3 o'clock and 4 o'clock. Only those who already are able to swim are being accommodated this week but it is expected that classes to teach swimming will be organized next week.

Only cotton or rubber suits will be allowed in the tank because of the nature of the filters. The children may either furnish their own suits or may rent them. The suits must be properly laundered each time they are used and all precautions for the health and safety of the children will be taken. The water in the pool is kept at a temperature of approximately 74 degrees and is filtered 24 times each 24 hours. It is tested daily for proper chlorination.

Troop 9 Scouts Work on Cooking

Will Entertain Dads at Steak Fry at Camp Chicagami Tonight

Menasha—The second of the series of summer meetings for scouts of Troop 9, sponsored by the Menasha Wooden Ware, was held at the Memorial building Monday evening with cooking and first aid the two topics for discussion. Leaders of the troop led discussion on the subjects. Under the plan for the summer work, the scouts will spend the remainder of the week working on the particular subject in order to complete the merit badge requirements. The scouts will have a chance to get some actual practice on the cooking requirements tonight with a steak fry planned for dads of scouts in the troop at Camp Chicagami. Dads and scouts are to meet at the old high school site at 515 and then will drive to the camp on Lake Winnebago.

Mr. J. W. Olson, topic of discussion at the first of the meetings. The summer's work will culminate with a court of honor on Sept. 24 after regular meetings are resumed. At that time J. Wesley Olson, scoutmaster, hopes that each member of the troop will be eligible to receive two merit badges.

Leaders of the troop will assist the scouts in merit badge work particularly adapted to the summer. Bob Bechowski has charge of cycling. Bob Trautz will offer instruction in photography; archery will be in charge of Otto Hoffman; Jim Flynn will assist with automobile requirements while Sam Porto has several subjects in mind, including cooking, swimming and lifesaving. Camp can be taken with Armin Gerhardt at the Neenah bath house.

Twin City Deaths

LENZ FUNERAL
Menasha—Funeral services for Mrs. Pauline Lenz, who died Monday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Kiefus Sindahl, North Fond du Lac, will be held at 9 o'clock at St. Mary Catholic church. The Rev. Rev. Mgr. John Hummel will conduct the services. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Lenz was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis and of the St. Anne's society of St. Mary church.

The body will be at the E. C. Heuer Funeral home, Neenah, this afternoon and evening. A prayer service will be conducted by the two societies at 7:30 this evening at the funeral home.

Neenah Personals

Neenah—Eugene Lallamant, 121 E. Franklin avenue, has been admitted to Theda Clark hospital for treatment.

Oscar Olson, 216 E. Columbus avenue, Neenah, had his tonsils removed at Theda Clark hospital.

Arthur Schultz has returned from Chicago where he attended the gift show at the Merchandise Mart and Palmer House. Mrs. Hermine Homblette also attended the gift show at the mart.

The Twin Cities office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for advertising and orders for subscriptions may be left at the office or may be telephoned. This number also may be called before 7 o'clock in the evening for delivery of papers missed by carriers in Neenah or Menasha.

Plant Removes 12.2 Tons of Solids Daily During Last Month

Menasha—An average of 12.2 tons of dry solids per day was removed from sewage treated at the Twin City sewage disposal plant during July, according to J. M. Holderby, plant superintendent. During the month, 167 million gallons of sewage were treated while the pumpage was even greater because of several large storm flows.

Sewage treatment was slightly lower in July than in June when 17.1 million gallons was treated. However, the power demand increased 20 per cent during the month although the actual pumpage was less because of the high surge flows. The increase power demand was caused by the sudden large flows of water during storms through the catch basins and roots of the storm sewer system which are still connected to the sanitary system.

Central States Sewage Officials To Meet Oct. 13-14

Neenah and Menasha Will Be Host to 2-Day Convention

Menasha—Arrangements for the Central States Sewage Works association 2-day convention, to be held in Neenah-Menasha Oct. 13 and 14, are being made now, according to J. M. Holderby, superintendent of the Neenah-Menasha sewage disposal plant. The arrangements for the meeting are being made by Mr. Holderby, Clarence Baetz of Appleton and George Martin of Green Bay, all sewage plant superintendents.

Headquarters for the convention will be at the Valley Inn in Neenah. About 200 members of the association, which is a technical group composed of engineers and operators of sewage disposal plants in Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Minnesota, are expected to attend. The association is designed for the dissemination of knowledge, design, construction, operation and management of sewage plants.

The convention will consist of inspection of disposal plants in the neighborhood as well as technical sessions. Plants which probably will be included in the inspection tour are the Twin City one, Appleton and Oshkosh.

F. M. Dawson, dean of the engineering school, University of Iowa, is president of the association and W. H. Wisely, Illinois state department of health, is secretary. This is the first time that the convention has been awarded to a community as small as the Twin Cities. Previously the conventions have been held in Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Paul, Indianapolis and Minneapolis. The quality of the Neenah-Menasha sewage disposal plant, as well as surrounding plants, was one of the prime reasons that the association scheduled its meeting here, according to Mr. Holderby.

Neenah Society

Twin City Visiting Nurse association will meet at 9:30 Wednesday morning at the Twin City Y. W. C. A.

The announcements telling of the engagement of a former Neenah girl, Miss Helen Mae Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Meyers, Peshtigo, to Paul Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Garrison, Menominee, Mich., have been received here. The Meyers family formerly lived in Neenah.

Twenty-five feminine members of Ridgeway Golf club will leave for Chilton Wednesday morning to be guests of the women at the Chilton club. No ladies' day will be held at the local club. A return golf match and ladies day activities for the members of the Chilton club together with the Fond du Lac club is being planned for Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Luther Leagues of St. Paul's English Lutheran church will entertain at a party for members Thursday evening at the Twin City Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Leonard Mead was guest of honor Saturday evening when friends gathered at her home to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. Cards provided entertainment during the evening.

Mothers club of the First Methodist Episcopal church will entertain at a picnic meeting Wednesday afternoon at Washington park. The picnic was originally planned for July but was postponed because of rain.

Willene Workers Community Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Peter Salm, Neenah, route 2, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Myrtle Yule of Menasha will be guest speaker at the meeting.

John Idehe, route 3, was guest of honor at a family reunion and birthday anniversary party Sunday at the Idehe farm home. Guests from Oshkosh, Omro, Winneconne, Neenah and Madison attended the party. Cards were played and during the afternoon a group attended the baseball game at South Greenville Grange.

Miss May Hart, president of the Twin City Business and Professional Women's club, has announced that no meeting of the club will be held this month. Plans are being made for the September meeting of which Miss Edna Robertson is program chairman.

HEADLINE PERFORMERS FOR PET, HOBBY SHOW

Headlining the annual Pet and Hobby show of the city recreational program Saturday, Aug. 20, in Riverside park, will be a dog act by Doberman Pinschers, shown above, owned and trained by William Necker, Lake Villa, Ill. J. H. Kimberly, E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah, one of the Pet and Hobby show committee members, is sponsoring the act. Among the above pictured group is Tiger, Mr. Necker's prize pinscher worth $5,000, who can sit on the handle of a broom when it is held in the air, can leap a 14 foot wall and do life saving. Mr. Necker will act as one of the Judges at the Pet and Hobby show.

Puppet Show Planned for Neenah Pet, Hobby Exhibit

Neenah—A puppet show under the auspices of the WPA recreational division headquarters at Oshkosh with John Kuehl, Neenah, in charge, also will be a feature of the annual pet and hobby show at Riverside park Saturday, Aug. 20, according to Armin Gerhardt, director of the city recreational program through which the show is sponsored.

Ponies will be on the grounds for the children to ride and a dance for the older young people is planned during the evening.

Tiger, the $5,000 worth of Doberman Pinscher, owned by William Necker, Lake Villa, Ill., who is in charge, also will be a feature of the annual pet and hobby show at Riverside park Saturday, Aug. 20, according to Armin Gerhardt, director of the city recreational program through which the show is sponsored.

Up to last Saturday the accident record for the county stood at 259 accidents for this year as compared with 300 for the same period of 1937. Four fatalities have been reported and 143 persons injured. A year ago the deaths for the period numbered 12 with 189 persons injured.

Schmerein Wins Singles Tourney

Defeats Albrecht to Take Permanent Possession of Trophy

Neenah—For the third successive year John Schmerein won the men's singles tennis tournament in the city recreation program, according to Ivan Williams, tennis director. With the championship this year, Schmerein won permanent possession of the trophy. On the way to the crown, Schmerein defeated Al Albrecht, Hugh Strange, Harold Brunck, Bill Strange and Paul Albrecht.

In the finals Schmerein took a straight set victory from Albrecht on scores of 6-2, 6-0 and 6-4. In the semis he defeated Bill Strange 6-1 and 6-4 while in the round of four he defeated Harold Brunck 6-4 and 8-6.

Albrecht reached the finals with two three-set victories. In the quarters he defeated Duane Raiche, 6-8, 10-8 and 6-4 while in the semis he defeated Don Erdman, 6-2, 4-6 and 7-5. Bill Strange reached the semis by defeating Wayne Fellers, 7-9, 6-4, 6-1, and Erdman defeated Walter Sellnow, 6-8, 8-6 and 8-3, to reach the semis. Upsets of seeded players marked the tournament.

Friday morning the tournament for boys 12 years old and younger will start, according to the director. Next Monday the season will end with the mixed doubles tournament.

Rotary Club to Hear Hauptmann Trial Story
Menasha—Vincent Marko of Hollywood, Cal., one of the defense attorneys in the Lindbergh kidnapping case, will give highlights of the Hauptmann trial in a talk before the Menasha Rotary club at Hotel Menasha Wednesday noon. Mr. Marko, who is president of the Hollywood Bar association, is a guest at the Frank B. Whiting home.

Menasha—Girls at the Marathon Paper Mills office will entertain Thursday at Hotel Menasha in honor of Miss Loretta Wilmut, Appleton street, who will be married this month to Gene Tesch, Watertown, former assistant athletic coach at St. Mary's High school.

Miss Louise Liebhauser was guest of honor at a birthday anniversary party Monday evening at her home on De Pere street. Prizes in bridge went to Marian Copman, Verna Hackstock and Margaret Hietl. Consolation prize went to Edna Conjurski, Stevens Point. Guests included Dorothy Tuchscherer, Joan Hickey, Florence Koerner, Betty Bruhl, Theresa Schmidt, Dorothy Kobinsky and Jean Hengstler.

Menasha Coach to Issue Call for 73 Grid Players

Menasha—Seventy-three letters to prospective candidates for the 1938 Menasha High school football team will be placed in the mail next Monday, according to Coach N. A. Calder. The letters will request the players of the coming season and will lay down a few simple training rules and conditioning exercises for the players to follow before the actual training season opens.

All candidates for the team will report at the Butte des Morts gymnasium at 10 o'clock August 31 where equipment will be issued. The first practice will be held on Sept. 1. The opening of practice is regulated by the Wisconsin Inter-scholastic Athletic association, of which Menasha High school is a member.

Although a regular player was lost from almost every position on the team last year through graduation, enough reserves are expected back to make a fair unit. In addition to upper classmen, promising freshmen candidates will receive letters as will members of the freshman "quad" of last year and members of the "B" team.

Those who will receive letters

Twin Cities Area Leads Increase in County Valuation

More Than Half of $5,000,000 Gain in Neenah-Menasha Section

Menasha—An increase of $5,377,900 in assessed valuation of Winnebago county, of which over half is in the Twin City area, is apparent in the recommendations of assessments for the district, to the equalization committee of the county Monday night. The supervisor's recommendations were approved by the equalization committee but must also be approved by the county board at the November meeting. The total assessed valuation of the county for 1938 will be $102,253,600 while in 1937 the valuation was set at $96,875,700.

The town of Menasha had the largest increase of any of the local units of government, $1,894,500, over one-fifth of the total. The increase was due principally to the completion of the Lakeside Paper mill of the Kimberly-Clark corporation in that town. The plant went on the assessment rolls at $1,800,000.

The 1938 recommended assessed value of town of Menasha is $3,986,700 while in 1937 it was $2,092,200. The town will have to pay 3.98 per cent of the county taxes next year while last year it paid only 2.15%. The increase amounts to 1.79 per cent.

Neenah Group to Attend District Conclave of C. E.

Evangelical Leagues of Appleton Area to Convene at Forest Junction

Neenah—Plans are being made by the Evangelical Leagues of Christian Endeavor of First Evangelical church to send delegates to the Christian Endeavor and Sunday school convention of the Wisconsin Conference of Evangelical churches Aug. 19 to Aug. 28 at Forest Junction.

The Rev. Carl F. Zietlow, pastor of the local church is vice president of the Appleton district E. L. C. E. and Sunday school.

Friday, Aug. 26, is being observed by the convention as Women's Missionary society day and members of the local church's mission group will have representatives at the meeting. Mrs. E. W. Marks, Clintonville, will preside at the group meeting of the society Friday morning with the Rev. S. Hiro-naka, Japan, as guest speaker.

Camp meetings are planned in conjunction with the convention. This week at Lomira, the young peoples' conduct course is being held.

Mrs. Carl F. Zietlow is giving an elective course in the "Geography and Customs of Bible Lands" at the Lomira assembly. Representatives from the local church also include Stanley Howman and Mrs. Louis Howman, the latter, superintendent of the Sunday school.

Outstanding instructors for the religious education school at this week's assembly include the Rev. A. E. Kurth, Detroit, Mich., pastor of the Twelfth street Evangelical church in that city, the Rev. W. E. Grode, Elgin, Ill., the Rev. Earl Reichert, Eau Claire, who was formerly pastor of First Evangelical church of Neenah, and the Rev. J. A. Heck who is head of religious education in the district. Students who take the courses receive regular credit in International Religious Education.

Woman Injured In Fall Is Dead

Hip Fracture Fatal to Mrs. Lovina Dayton, 74.

Menasha—Mrs. Lovina Dayton, 74, 679 DePere street, died at 6 o'clock this morning at her home. A broken hip suffered in a fall a week ago at her home was responsible for her death.

She lived in Menasha 21 years. Survivors are five daughters, Mrs. Andrew Bartline, route 1, Menasha; Mrs. John Kiesner, Hilbert; Mrs. H. J. Thompson, Appleton; Mrs. Ida Dunton, Mrs. Al Dombroski, Menasha.

The funeral will be held at 10:30 Thursday morning at the home with the Rev. A. A. Chambers, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal church, in charge. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery, Neenah. The body will be at the residence from Wednesday noon to the hour of services.

Twin City Births

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Pincel, route 2, Neenah, at Theda Clark hospital last night.

RUBBISH WEDNESDAY

Menasha—Rubbish will be collected in the fourth district on Wednesday according to H. O. Haugh, city health officer. The district includes Sixth street and the area north to the city limits.

Intersectional E-Boat Regatta Will Stimulate Twin City Social Program

Neenah—With the second annual Intersectional E-Boat regatta scheduled to open Wednesday at the Neenah-Nodaway Yacht club as hosts, social events in Neenah and Menasha will take on added importance. Guests are already arriving in the city for the events and other guests are expected although hosts are not definitely sure who is coming until they arrive.

A dance at North Shore Country club Wednesday evening will open the club's social events for the week and Thursday evening, the annual meeting of the I. L. Y. A. will be held following a dinner at the North Shore Country club. Hosts will be the local yacht club commodore and officers. About 80 are expected to attend this dinner.

The presentation of trophies and a dance is planned for Friday evening at the North Shore Country club.

Private dinner parties and other social events are being planned by those Neenah and Menasha residents who will be entertaining guests this week.

Dinner at North Shore
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kimberly and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Kimberly will entertain at a dinner Wednesday evening at the North Shore Country club.

43 Skippers From Seven Clubs Enter Inland Lakes Meet

Boats Will Begin Arriving at Nodaway Yacht Club Dock Friday

Neenah—Entries have been received from 43 skippers from seven yacht clubs for the forty-first annual Inland Lakes Yachting association regatta which will be sailed on the Neenah-Nodaway's Lake Winnebago course next week, starting Monday. The entries include 13 in "A" class; 12 in "E" class and 17 in the "C" class. They have been received from the Lake Geneva Yacht club, the Oshkosh Yacht club, the Oconomowoc Lake club, the Delavan Yacht club, the Maxinkuckee Yacht club, the Pine Lake Yacht club and the Neenah-Nodaway Yacht club.

Beginning on Friday the boats will start to arrive at the Neenah-Nodaway Yacht club dock for unloading and from that time until the regatta ends on Friday, Aug. 19, the clubhouse and dock will be the center of activity for approximately 100 boats.

The schedule of events will include a race for the "C" class boats each morning from Sunday through Friday and for the "A" and "E" classes each afternoon. The races Sunday are special tune-up races and will be sailed for special trophies to be presented by the Neenah-Nodaway Yacht club. The race will be unofficial and will allow the crews to make final adjustments after the trip to Neenah.

Official Start Monday
The first official race will be sailed next Monday and from that day on the races will be sailed for annual trophies of the ILYA. All of the winners of last year's regatta at Lake Geneva will be on hand to defend their titles. The ILYA regatta is the premier sailing event among the sailors of the inland lakes of Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota and is one of the oldest events of its type in the country.

The first party of the week is scheduled for Wednesday night, Aug. 17, at the North Shore Country club, and will be a dance. On Friday night another dance and presentation of the trophies will be held, also at the North Shore Country club. The annual meeting of the ILYA will be held Thursday night.

The federal government is sending two coast guard cutters to Neenah for the regatta. They will be in charge of policing of the course and will have absolute authority in regard to the movements of motor boats.

Federal Inspectors
Two federal inspectors will be in Neenah along with the patrol boats to give a rigid inspection to all motorboats. It is suggested that all motorboat owners be certain that the required equipment is on board.

Rules governing the movements of motor boats have been issued. They include:

1. Do not run over 6 miles per hour in the river when passing boats at anchor or moored. This is a federal rule.
2. Observe carefully the speed at which you run when following the races so as not to create a heavy wake, which often interferes with the position of a sailing yacht and might even prevent her from winning her proper place in the regatta. This is especially important during light winds.
3. The patrol boats will indicate the distance that motor boats are to keep back of the sailing yachts. Any motor boat violating the instructions from the coast guard may be ordered off the course and if necessary the number may be withdrawn by the federal authority.

Condition of Accident Victim Is 'Fairly Good'

Neenah—The condition of George Fellner, 18, 160 Denhart avenue, who was injured in an accident Saturday afternoon on Highway 59 north of Neenah, was "fairly good" at Theda Clark hospital this morning where he is a patient. Fellner received a skull fracture and a compound fracture of the right arm when he jumped from a threshing rig on which he was riding into the path of an automobile driven by Norman Oshkosh, Oshkosh.

The minimum resistance to the water and a maximum of speed. These boats are reputed to be the fastest sailboats for the size, affloat.

Marconi Rig
Over the years there have been a number of changes in design of the boats, especially in the "A" class. The boats now are all outfitting with a Marconi rig and the rigging also includes a curved streamlined spar.

This year also will see some innovations in the form of new type rigging, changes in the spar and changes in the general design of the hull of the boat. A. F. Garz, Jr., of the Lake Geneva Yacht club, has changed the design of the rigging on his boat by shortening the boom, moving back the spar and increasing the size of the jib. Harry G. Nye, also of the Lake Geneva Yacht club, is trying the new Marconi rig on his boat, Gale S. F. Shattuck of the Neenah-Nodaway Yacht club is trying out the pointed boom, an important innovation, on the hull of his boat, the Odaway.

Winnebago Players to Present First Showing of 'Dinner at Eight' Tonight

Menasha — When the curtain opens at 8:15 this evening in the Menasha high school auditorium, the first performance of "Dinner at Eight" by the Winnebago Players summer dramatic offering under the direction of Maurice Hunt, E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah, will be presented to an audience which, indicated by ticket sales, will practically fill the auditorium proper. However, it is reported that there are many fine seats in the popular price range, both on the main floor and in the balcony, still available for tonight and Wednesday when the second performance will be held.

Ticket sales at Barnett's pharmacy in Neenah, Sonnenberg's pharmacy in Menasha and Bell's pharmacy in Appleton, have been brisk. Most of the higher priced seats have been taken.

The seven sets for the production, "Dinner at Eight," the largest number ever attempted by the Players group, have been made ready for the first performance tonight. Miss Katherine Beals, who studied designing in Oakland, Calif., last year, is in charge of the scenery and stage sets. Each set is arranged on casters to make for quick change.

On Production Staff

Assisting Mr. Hunt on the production staff for the presentations were Peggy Kimberly and Jane Sensenbrenner. Arthur Brown is in charge of stage management with Howard Anzelmeyer as assistant. Virginia Beals is head of the properties committee and assisting her are Anne Shattuck, Margaret Brown, Fredericka Whiting, Priscilla Gilbert and Audrey Besche.

Mr. Hunt, who has to his credit several years of experience in Neighborhood Playhouses as the cast as well as a year in a Broadway production, "Little Mansions" is playing the leading male role, Larry Renault, a motion picture actor, in the comedy.

Millicent Jordan, the hostess, and Oliver Jordan, the host, at whose home "dinner at eight" is given, are to be played by Mrs. S. N. Pickard who was a member of the University Players at the University of Wisconsin, and Henry Jung, Neenah, who has appeared in every production of the Players since its inception 10 years ago. Miss Margaret Hecht Appleton, former member of the Pasadena Summer Playhouse, will appear as Paula Jordan, their daughter.

Mrs. Glenn Hoffmann Appleton, will play Kitty Packard and the role of Dan Packard will be handled by Henry Meyer.

Others in Cast

Mrs. William Dowling will be seen as Carlotta Vance, Mrs. Robert McMillan as Hattie Loomis and James Woelckner as Ed Loomis. John Pinkerton, Menasha, will be seen in the society doctor role of Dr. Talbot and Mrs. D. W. Bergstrom, Jr., will play his wife, Lucy Talbot.

Paul Strange Jr., Neenah, will be seen as Max Kane and Irwin Pearson as Joe Stengle.

Susan Beals will be seen as Doris, the maid, Nathan Wanda as Gustav, the butler and Joe Gilman, Appleton, as the chauffeur.

Christie Jersild, Neenah, Mrs. Edward MacKenzie Menasha, Howard Jacobson, Neenah, Morris Hickey, Neenah, Betty Borenz, Neenah are other members of the cast.

The dinner guests who have nothing in common are brought together at the Jordan home to meet Lord Ferncliffe who forgets to come to the dinner. Sophisticated dialogue, amusing as well as subtle tragic, marks the play which has been reviewed by one critic as "smart, sophisticated, brilliant in dialogue, exciting in action."

Menasha Personals

Richard Reimer, 438 Manitowoc street, Menasha, had his tonsils removed at Theda Clark hospital this morning.

Mrs. Edward Hawley, Jr., New Haven, Conn., is a guest this week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Fahrerkrug at 511 Lavin street.

150 Young People Attend Riverview Club Junior Dance

About 150 young people from Appleton and the surrounding cities attended Riverview Country club's second junior dance of the season Monday night. Dancing tirelessly all evening, they presented a much different picture from that their parents make when they attend a formal dance and sit and talk half the evening. The couple that sat out a whole dance last night was rare, and the soft drink vender stationed on the veranda had business only when the orchestra stopped for intermissions. Co-chairmen of the event were Miss Ruth Chapelle and Hampton Purdy, and chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Heber Polkey and Mr. and Mrs. Guy McConson.

Miss Mory, Mrs. Smith In Finals

MISS MIMI MORY, Neenah, will meet Mrs. Mowry Smith, Neenah, Thursday in the finals of the women's July golf tournament at North Shore Golf club, it was announced today. Miss Mory won her way to the finals by defeating Mrs. Kimberly Stuart, Neenah, and Mrs. Smith won her semi-finals match from Mrs. W. E. Buchanan, Appleton.

In a Class A match looking toward the club championship, Mrs. Don Shepard, Neenah, defeated Mrs. L. H. Johnson. The golf prize given at the weekly ladies' day at the club yesterday was won by Miss Betty Buchanan. It was given for the low total score on Holes 1, 4 and 7. Luncheon and bridge followed the golf competition. Miss Margaret McNaughton, Neenah, winning the prize at bridge. A guest day is planned for ladies' day at the club next Monday.

Golf prizes at Butte des Morts Golf club's ladies' day tomorrow will be given for low net score on 18 holes and also on 9 holes and for low putts on the second 9 holes. Mrs. Royall L. Rose and Mrs. H. A. De Bauler are on the flower committee for the day. Women of the club will be hostesses at a guest day next week Wednesday, Aug. 17.

Miss Eleanor Smith, 920 E. Eldorado street, will be hostess to Appleton alumnae of Zeta Tau Alpha at 7:30 Thursday evening at her home.

Dorothy Schaefer Wed in 1935 to George B. Walter

MRS. AND MRS. Theodore Schaefer, 824 E. Pacific street, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Ann, to George B. Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Walter, Milwaukee, which occurred Sept. 8, 1935, at Menominee, Mich. Mr. Walter has been engaged to teach English at Appleton High school this fall. After Sept. 1 he and Mrs. Walter will be at home at 718 W. Elsie street.

A member of the Lawrence college football squad for four years, Mr. Walter was captain in his senior year. He was graduated in 1936, and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Lyall-Solstad
Miss Mary Lyall, daughter of Mrs. William Lyall, Ridgeview, N. J., became the bride of Erling William Solstad, Appleton architect, in a ceremony performed at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the chapel of All Saints Episcopal church by the Rev. William J. Spicer. The bride was given in marriage by her mother, and the attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Kauffmann.

Because of the recent death of the bride's father, Dr. Walter was president of the Brighton Mills of Pasquo, N. J., and Shannon, Ga. the service was private.

Mrs. Solstad was graduated from the Shipley school at Bryn Mawr, Pa., and the Montclair State Teachers college of New Jersey. Mr. Solstad, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Solstad, Chicago, is a graduate of the Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago. He is a member of the firm of Kauffmann and Solstad, architects.

The couple will live at 114 E. Atlantic street.

Says Solons Will be Limited in Passing On Reorganization

Fortage, Wis. — (U) — Robert K. Henry, coalition candidate for governor, declared in a campaign address today that the 1939 legislature would be limited to 10 days in reviewing the LaFollette administration's steps in reorganizing the state government.

The governor has informed the people that his reorganization work must be approved by a majority of a committee of eight legislators and five state officials, Henry said.

The governor "cunningly refrained" from saying ten of the committee men were members of his own party, Henry added.

Two of the 10 days allowed for the legislature to disapprove of anything done in the reorganization probably will be required for selection of legislative officers, Henry said.

"It is easy to imagine the confusion that will exist among the new legislators, since the scrambling of state department is still in progress at this time," Henry continued.

"They wouldn't even have time to complete reading the report on reorganization before the time limit expired and the law would remain in effect without their votes."

Fox Scores Phil In Hilbert Talk

Democratic Candidate for Governor Attacks 3rd Party Move

Hilbert — Addressing his first Calumet county audience in the present campaign at a band concert here Monday evening, Jerome Fox, Chilton, Democratic candidate for governor, declared that the Democratic party, while not rich in money like the Republican or coalition groups in the state, is still rich in principles and policies and wholeheartedly in support of President Roosevelt.

Admitting that the political situation in Wisconsin is both complex and serious, Fox asserted that the greatest danger lies in the division of liberal forces and scored Governor LaFollette for breaking with the national administration and attempting the organization of a new political party. A public office, he said, is a public trust and should not be made the fence-building headquarters of any third, fourth or fifth party. The rise of dictatorship in Germany and Italy was ascribed by the speaker to the existence of too many political parties.

Fox suggested setting up of a voluntary board of capital and labor whose pronouncement should be a guide to parties involved, and he pledged himself, if elected governor to reunite labor factions, believing that the CIO and AFL have sufficient in common to carry on without discord.

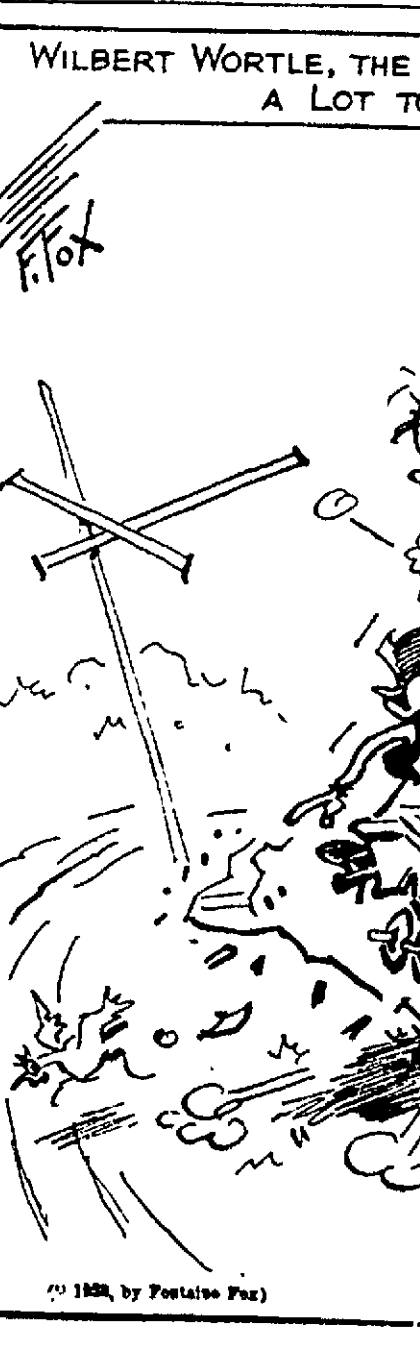

Postpone Drafting of Referendum Resolution

Kimberly — The village board at a special meeting last night postponed drafting a resolution for a referendum for construction of a sewage system until next Monday evening. The delay was made to give members more time to study the proposal and costs. The special election on the referendum will be held early in fall. Federal aid through a PWA grant will be sought.

More men were ordered on the sidewalk building project so that it can be completed this fall. The present crew of 16 men will be increased to about 26 and two shifts will be worked.

A city dental clinic returned to his home for the remainder of the vacation.

1934 Sidley Will Favor Attorney

Document Is Less Favorable to Son Than One Offered for Probate

Racine — (U) — Bernard Magruder, executor of the 1938 will of Mrs. Maybelle Horlick Sidley, said yesterday that terms of a 1934 will by Mrs. Sidley were more favorable to William Perkins Bull, Toronto attorney, and less favorable to her son, William Horlick Sidley, than the document currently offered for probate.

Under the 1938 will, Bull, whose home Mrs. Sidley died July 6, and the son each received $250,000 and one third of the residual estate. Under the earlier document, Magruder said, the son was left only a $250,000 trust fund over which Bull previously was in a position to realize $1,000,000 for legal services to the estate, Magruder added.

A still earlier will, dated in 1927, would give Sidley the bulk of his mother's estate.

Magruder said yesterday he and three other executors of the 1938 will are seeking by court action to halt an inquest into Mrs. Sidley's death at Toronto. Sidley, the fifth executor, is urging an investigation into circumstances of his mother's demise.

Duffy Speaks at Dinner For Camp McCoy Officers

Sparta, Wis. — (U) — "Blinding our own business is the best foreign policy for the United States," Senator F. Ryan Duffy told 200 persons attending a chamber of commerce banquet last night honoring Major General Hugh Drum, Brigadier General Walter Prosser and other Camp McCoy officers.

Discussing the last war appropriately, Duffy said he had urged training of a civilian component of the army as the best plan for a democratic nation. Camp McCoy, he said, should be made a year-around post.

Major General Drum told of advancement of modern weapons and transportation. Both he and Brig. Gen. Prosser termed Camp McCoy an ideal spot for army maneuvers.

Cigarette tax stamps were inaugurated in 1938.

Political Candidate Hits at Progressives

Milwaukee — (U) — Mrs. Louise Givan, Democratic national committeewoman and candidate for secretary of state, in an address last night declared the incumbencies of Governor Phil LaFollette and Secretary of State Theodore Damman should be ended "in the interest of Democracy."

Many Progressives, she said, "build to succeed themselves only in a so-called democratic government, no office should go to any man for so many years without at least a constructive effort to take it from him."

Nabs Auto Theft Suspect As He Hunts Hog Thieves

Rushville, Ind. — (U) — Sheriff Dallas Hardwick started out in search of hog thieves today, but returned with an alleged automobile thief.

The sheriff failed to find the persons who had stolen some hogs from the Earl Court farm near Milroy, but as he returned home he met three young Connersville hitch-hikers who gave him a tip that led to the arrest of James Payne, 18, of Chicago, in an automobile he was alleged to have stolen from Donald Martin at Greensburg, Ind.

Schedule Inquest in Beloit Woman's Death

Beloit — (U) — An inquest into the death of Mrs. Allan J. Smith, 31, of Beloit, who was found slumped in an automobile near here Saturday night, was tentatively today for next Friday.

Coroner E. J. Overton impaneled a jury yesterday after an autopsy disclosed Mrs. Smith's death was caused by a brain concussion.

Her husband told police Mrs. Smith had made no complaint of illness.

Man Burned When Oil Truck Catches Fire

Marquette, Wis. — (U) — Robert Olson, 21, of Menominee, Mich., was in a hospital here today receiving treatment for burns he suffered yesterday when an oil truck caught fire, apparently from static electricity, as he was filling it from a storage tank.

Firemen who played streams of water on two storage tanks holding 27,000 gallons of gasoline extinguished the flames with chemicals.

Grant County Utility Must Revise Its Rates

Madison — (U) — The public service commission today ordered revision of the rate and rules of the Blue River Light company, Grant county, which it estimated will save customers $1,000 a year.

Bills to industrial customers will be increased $27 a year, but street lighting rates will be reduced $195, home users will pay $223 less, and business houses $223 less, the commission said.

Commercial Club Announces Offer For Fair Grounds

Willing to Pay $1,500 to Preserve Property as Village Park

Hortonville — The Hortonville Commercial Men's club at a special meeting last night approved a proposal to purchase the Hortonville fair grounds for $1,500 to preserve it as a community park and outdoor entertainment center.

The seven acres of land now are owned by the Hortonville Fair association which has discontinued sponsoring fairs because of financial difficulty. The land is now engaged and if foreclosed the property will be sold under the hammer and may go to some person for private enterprise. In that event the community would lose a fine park and the beautiful pine trees on the property probably would be cut down.

Purchase of the land by the Commercial club will preserve the heavily wooded park for picnics, outings and the annual homecoming sponsored by the Commercial club.

The fair association has been notified of the club's offer and a meeting of the association will be called soon to consider the proposition. M. F. Ziehm of the Commercial club said it is prepared to pay enough cash to offset obligations of the fair association and to hold the property until a drive for funds can be made to pay off the entire $1,500.

Three members of the club were sent to Wausau today to attend a hearing of railroad officials regarding removal of passenger trains now routed through the village.

Kiwanians Honor District Governor At Stevens Point

Stevens Point, Wis. — (U) — Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Kiwanians honored District Governor Asa M. Royce of Platteville last night with a banquet and ball attended by 630 Royce announced the 73 district clubs had 3,462 members enrolled.

Warden John C. Burke of the Wisconsin State prison discussed need for educational, religious and physical training among prisoners at Waupun. He said the average age of men released from prison is 35 years, because of which the public should maintain an interest in the convicted man.

Attorney General Orland S. Loomis predicted organization of law enforcement departments in all states. He pressed the Kiwanians for their interest and cooperation in crime prevention.

H. L. Nunn of Milwaukee, president of the National Police Association, said "farmers and industrial workers both are parts of the same economic machine, and the welfare of both is interdependent." He leaned to the belief, he said, that annual payrolls cannot exceed farm income.

Johnsons Planning Series of Shoots in Michigan, Minnesota

Waupaca — One of this country's greatest marksmen, "Bill" Johnson, returned Sunday night from Milwaukee where he and his wife, Frances, attended the state trap shoot. Mr. Johnson, former tackle at the University of Illinois, turned to targets when he broke 196 out of 200 in the state singles championship. Mrs. Johnson broke 170 in the class D race Sunday morning.

D. C. Hayward, Weyauwega, broke 193 in the state championship, feature race of the state shoot.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will leave directly for Michigan for a series of exhibition shoots, then for Minnesota, including their summer home at Cloud, Alexandria, Bemidji, Chisholm, International Falls and Duluth. They will also visit Canada before returning to Waupaca Sept. 1.

Equally as expert with pistol, revolver, rifle and shot gun, "Bill" skill is so amazing that he pulls out the most impossible shots and makes them all look easy. Knocking down the empty shells as they are thrown out by the ejector of the gun he is using is just one of his little stunts. He pulls another rabbit out of his hat when he stands on his head, or rather his shoulders, and breaks three targets thrown out of an Indian-head in rapid fire. With his wife loading and reloading the rifles Mr. Johnson sits on a box firing one shot after another, drawing out the picture on a large piece of white cardboard, the shots landing just an inch or so apart and making a black mark on the paper.

Mrs. Johnson, having attained ability under the tutelage of her husband during the last three years, also qualifies as an expert in her own right.

Boy Scouts of Green Bay are expecting to see "Bill" on Aug. 9, when he will give a brief school of instruction for the boys.

The state skeet shoot at Green Bay on Sept. 2, 3 and 4 is on the Johnsons' schedule.

Chilton Man Cuts Arm Severely With Hatchet

Chilton — While cutting branches from a cherry tree which he had just cut down on his lot on Grand street Thursday evening, John Fluhr cut his right arm between the wrist and the elbow with a hatchet, severing the sinews that lead to the four fingers. He was taken to St. Agnes hospital in Fond du Lac where his injuries are being treated. He is an employee of the Wisconsin Public Service corporation.

The Rev. A. E. Pfaff left Sunday night for the west. He will spend several days in New Orleans, and will visit points of interest in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. From there he will go to Los Angeles to spend a month with his sister.

A marriage license was issued by county clerk Roland Miller to Jerome Schneider, New Holstein, and Josephine Weinstein, Stockbridge.

The Rev. E. L. Hennig of the Reformed church is spending the week attending the twenty-third annual missionary conference of the Reformed churches of this section, which is being held at the Mission House at Frankfort. The Rev. Mr. Hennig will conduct the Bible hour for young people every morning, and will deliver a series of lectures on "Young People as Heroic Adventurers in the Life of Today."

Mrs. Harold Grout and sons Philip and Richard of Toronto are visiting the former's mother Mrs. Eliza Stuedel and other relatives here. Mrs. Grout before her marriage was teacher of English in the local high school.

Continue Search for Men Who Sold 'Diamonds'

Milwaukee — (U) — Police continued searching today for three men who left Mrs. Elsie Schewchenko, 35, "holding the bag" with 15 pieces of glass for which she paid $900, her life savings.

She was intrigued Mrs. Schewchenko told police, when on the street she saw one of the men "sell" another a $10 Russian gold piece for $3. After some conversation, she was permitted to buy a third interest in 15 diamonds "worth $2,000."

She hurried home with the "diamonds," she said, and waited for one of the men to return, as promised, to get the stones and re-sell them. She waited quite a while. First she saw a jeweler. Then she saw police.

Man Burned When Oil Truck Catches Fire

Marquette, Wis. — (U) — Robert Olson, 21, of Menominee, Mich., was in a hospital here today receiving treatment for burns he suffered yesterday when an oil truck caught fire, apparently from static electricity, as he was filling it from a storage tank.

Firemen who played streams of water on two storage tanks holding 27,000 gallons of gasoline extinguished the flames with chemicals.

Grant County Utility Must Revise Its Rates

Madison — (U) — The public service commission today ordered revision of the rate and rules of the Blue River Light company, Grant county, which it estimated will save customers $1,000 a year.

Bills to industrial customers will be increased $27 a year, but street lighting rates will be reduced $195, home users will pay $223 less, and business houses $223 less, the commission said.

Warden Removes Skunk From Home, Frees It in Marsh

Waupaca — Conservation Warden George F. Whalen saved the life of a skunk which was found in the basement of the Mrs. M. J. Armon home Sunday evening. Going to her basement for a jar of preserves about 9 o'clock, Mrs. Armon saw the skunk cross the room and into a hole in the wall. She quickly boarded up the opening and put in her call to the warden. Accompanied by Dr. Gust Meyers, and two men came prepared to chloroform the animal. After stuffing the hole with cotton the chloroform was applied and a wait of 15 minutes was all that was necessary before the animal was asleep and could be moved safely. Wrapping it in a newspaper, the men carried it to a nearby marsh where within four minutes the skunk revived and scampered quietly away.

Love on the Range

The Story So Far

Under the name of Streeter, "Blur" Ankrom takes a job on the Rafter T to help lovely Lee Trone. A plot is on foot to grab the ranch, and Ankrom wants to discover who is behind it. Heffle, a sheepman, jumps the water tank. Ankrom dashes to the line camp and challenges Heffle. Lee follows him.

Chapter 24

Powdersmoke

A cold chill fell on Lee as she looked from Heffle to Ankrom. Ankrom's lips were compressed, his face rigid.

Heffle laughed. "I don't scare worth a damn," he said, and his tobacco-stained fangs showed between the curl of his lips. "Unleash your wolf an' let him bark!"

None of the other men within Lee's vision smiled with him. What they saw in the eyes of the Rafter T foreman put a cramp in their facial muscles. One or two shifted their feet uneasily, cast longing glances toward their horses. Suddenly slipping, Heffle's smile revealed the scowl that lay behind it.

From a distance the pound of hoofs beat across the quiet. Lee, hearing them, thought it must be Ring-Legs.

Heffle heard them, too, and a deeper flame burned through his dusky glance. He settled his raw-boned length more easily against the door frame. "Well," he sneered, "what you waitin' for?"

"I'm waitin' for the rest of that three minutes to slide past," Ankrom said, and Lee saw that a grin crossed his lips as he added, "But that needn't hold the rest of you gents back—any time you feel the need for action just jerk a pistol loose."

"You brash fool!" Heffle's cheeks blazed red. "Nothin' but my personal hatred of violence holds me back from lettin' these boys give you what you're needin'!"

Lee saw a horseman atop the crest of Eagle Point, pace an instant to take in the scene below, then cautiously urge his pony down the trail. As he drew nearer she caught her breath. This man was not Ring-Legs—he was a total stranger!

While Ankrom drew a watch from his pocket Lee's eyes stayed on the coming horseman. He was much closer now; near enough for her to make out his features plainly. He was clad in a tight-fitting jacket of bright velvet and a pair of bat-wing chaps over trousers of green downy. The chaps looked scarred and old from long use, but their studgings of turquoise and silver told of original worth. Upon his head was a huge, bill-crowned sombrero.

But it was not at his trappings that Lee was gazing, her glance was fastened upon his face. It was dark, swarthy and handsome despite the tight thin-lipped mouth and the dark little eyes that flashed with cunning.

She watched him approach and slide down from the saddle, twenty paces back of Ankrom. A Mexican, obviously, Lee decided, and saw him glance at Heffle, whose mouth spread wide in a vicious grin.

Why didn't Ankrom look around? The man in the big sombrero was catfooting closer each second, as face wreathed in a leer of anticipation Lee opened her mouth to call, but no words came. Cold fear strangled the cry in her throat as the advancing Mexican drew the heavy pistol sagging his holster.

Terror-stricken she watched the Mexican creep up behind Ankrom; creep up to a point so near that by merely reaching out his hand the man could have touched him. She saw the gun—weighed hand so slowly up and back and there, as the breath caught in her throat, it stopped.

"Look Behind You!"

It seemed to Lee that something must have frozen the Mexican's muscles. From the tail of her eyes she noted the scowl that warped Heffle's features as the Mexican's hand began to tremble, slowly began to sag. And with the sight she suddenly found her voice.

"Abe! Abe!" she cried. "Behind you—quick!"

Ankrom did not whirl or even turn. Swift as light two smooth, long, sideward paces took him out of the Mexican's reach; placed the man within his vision and held the others likewise.

"Why, nowdy, Chato Bandera. I'm at some pleasure to see you. Were you figurin' to wave that gun at me?"

"Blur Ankrom!"

They were like a wad, those words that fell from the Mexican's twisted mouth. The eyes in his livid face were like two fat burnt holes in a linen sheet. A tremor shook the slender form from his polished boots to his bell-sombreroed head as, beneath the impact of Ankrom's mocking glance, he went back and a few uncertain steps. "I swear," he cried, "I did not know eet was you, Senor!"

Blur Ankrom!

Bandera's words seared into Lee's consciousness with the scorch of a branding iron. They left her weak and feeling very feminine and helpless; they drove the color from her cheeks and snapped constricting fingers of ice about her heart. Her mind was a chaos of emotion. Blur Ankrom—those words explained a lot of things about the man she had known as Streeter since she saw Bandera lower a smoking hard-saw the loosened grip release the pistol to let it slip over his shoulder.

Heffle's men were like a row of hard-boiled eggs, not even their eyes moved as they stared with silent contempt at Rafter T's foreman. A man was the stock-horse power of the place, and Lee had never seen a man who had not been a Senor.

She knew that a cold covered Ankrom's face. Who could not see that?

But to the water? Bandera's hand was on his hands. He was looking at the side, amigo. I have never seen a man so—

He moved a step of moisture from the ground, a few more steps, and he was in the water, as though he had never been there.

Lee saw the water, and she cried with a breath that was not a cry.

It was a cry of relief and regret, a cry of joy and well-banned tears, almost and it in

Ambers Apt to Pull Surprise

Lightweight Champion Confident He'll Turn Back Armstrong

BY GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK — It must be admitted that Lou Ambers, the lightweight champion, does not look too talk like the pop-over he is supposed to be for Henry Armstrong tomorrow night at the Polo Grounds.

In his final training spasm yesterday, the 135-pound king looked as tough as a smoked boot and his conversation all was to the effect that he knew exactly how to take care of the fierce little Negro once he got him in the ring.

The average man wouldn't like to face Armstrong with a baseball bat, yet Ambers talks like he can't wait to take a smack at the fireball who has dethroned the featherweight and welterweight champions in the last nine months.

Ross felt same way.

"Don't worry about me," he advised a visitor to his camp. "Wait until we've gone 15 rounds and then ask Armstrong how he liked it."

Lou isn't the first one to adopt that attitude toward "little dynamite." Barney Ross felt the same way before Henry started bouncing him around last May. He couldn't express much of an opinion afterward because his head was swathed in three layers of towel.

While Armstrong loafed in his camp, Ambers fought a fast two rounds with Sluggo White, a little Negro much like Armstrong in action, and did four rounds of other assorted work. Ambers looked fast as a bear trap and in condition to travel 15 rounds on his first wind.

Experts Waver

Some of the visiting experts who have been picking Armstrong to win by a knockout wavered a little after watching Lou. A couple of Henry's staunch admirers admitted he might have to be content with a decision. The betting still was 12 to 5 that the Negro would bag his third title.

The best that could be said for the crowd prospects was the prediction of Promoter Mike Jacobs that there would be $100,000 in the till. Other estimates backed it down as low as $75,000. The fight hasn't caught on.

They will weigh in tomorrow at noon, and there probably won't be a pound difference between them. Each plans to do 134.

HE SCARES PEOPLE

Behind that mask and looking like something out of a nightmare is Henry Armstrong, featherweight welterweight champion who goes into the ring in New York to try to knock the lightweight crown off Lou Ambers' brow. The mask saves him from too enthusiastic cuffing from his sparring partners.

Seek Caddies for Golf Tournament

Invitational Meet Thursday At B. D. M.: No Word From Ferebee

Because the recent hot spell has lowered the level of the creek on Butte des Morts golf club to a point where the water is stagnant and is considered dangerous for wading, the Invitational Tournament committee, on advice of doctors, has announced that caddies will not be permitted to go into the creek to rescue golf balls when the tournament is held Thursday. Caddies will be stationed at these points with rescue nets, however, and it is expected that most of the dunked balls will be recovered. There are six water hazards on the course, exclusive of drainage ditches.

The club yesterday requested the services of caddies from Oshkosh and Green Bay as well as from Ridgeway golf club, Neenah, and North Shore country club. Since play will get under way at 11:30 a. m. Thursday, and since more than 200 golfers are expected to be on hand, the services of all available caddies have been requested.

Word as to whether J. Smith Ferebee, Chicago golfer who would be the guest of the tournament, had not been received this morning. Ferebee was the guest at several functions in his honor yesterday in Chicago and was unable to reply to the invitation from Appleton.

Kovacs' Coach May Bring Legal Action Against Net Group

New York — The placid course of the United States Lawn Tennis association toward one of the game's most successful years has been interrupted by the lay complaint of George Kovacs, who claims he has been separated from his No. 1 pupil, Frank Kovacs, the lanky Oakland, Calif. Davis cup hopeful.

Hudson, for years a successful coach in Berkeley, Calif., announced he contemplated legal action against the U. S. L. T. A. because of charges that he was unduly "capitalizing" his connections with star young players.

The break between pupil and master was emphasized further by Kovacs who claimed Hudson never had taught him "a darned stroke."

"I don't owe Hudson anything," said Kovacs who is playing in the Eastern states tour championships at Rye. "I took lessons from him—yes, twenty of them, but only because by father had paid Hudson in advance."

Said Holcombe Ward president of the U. S. L. T. A.: "It's too hot to-day to get excited."

PLAY TONIGHT

Heibel and Wetzel will form the battery for the Forster Taverns tonight when they clash with the First English Lutheran team at Forster field. The game will start at 6:30. The Forsters are leaders in the Church and the Lutherans compete in the Church league.

Wednesday—Kimberly-Clark versus Wires.
Thursday—Woolens versus Fox River.
Friday—Atlas versus Wires.

ARCADE softball team moved up a notch nearer the four leaders in the American league last night when it upset the Atlas mill team by a 7 to 2 score. Atlas, however, still has a chance to overhaul the leaders for while it has a number of postponed games to play, it has only two games in the loss column.

Today and tonight the loop will stage three games. This afternoon Coated Paper and Labor will clash at Roosevelt diamond with one of the teams destined to be knocked out of the current first place tie. This evening the league will stage two games at Kimberly's lighted diamond. The first will have Atlas Mill versus the Woolens, the second Fox River versus Kimberly-Clark.

Klein on Mound

Wallie Klein tossed for the Atlas last night and was going along nicely until the squad ascended in the eighth frame. Wallie allowed ten hits, fanned eight and walked three while his mates erred three times. Sonny Filz worked for the Arcade and gave up three hits, fanned seven batters, walked four and the club had six errors.

Arcade scored one run in the second frame after one was out. Ripple was safe at second on Schade's overthrow to first. Malug followed with a single to score Ripple. In the third another marker was scored. Sonny Filz singled and an attempted steal his brother Gabby took a cut and hit to right field. But Van Wyck dropped the ball and Sonny stopped at third. Rhode beat out an infield hit to load the bases and Sonny Filz scored when Jones walked. Gabby Filz then was forced at the plate and Ripple grounded.

Atlas tied the score in the last of the fifth. Van Wyck walked, stole second and went to third when the Arcade second baseman let the ball get away. Ritten filed to the infield but Ervin Getchow singled to right to score Van. Ervin stole second and when Gabby Filz threw the ball into center.

Atlas Goes Up

The Atlas ascension came in the eighth. Sonny Filz beat out an infield hit, stole second and when he led off a hit far, Catcher Gebheim attempted to pick him off the bag. L. Getchow let the ball get away and the whole Atlas infield went after it. Sonny grabbed the opportunity to dash for home and scored.

Gabby Filz then walked, Rhode fouled, and Jones beat out a bunt with Gabby going to second. Cy Burton singled and Jones, expecting Gabby would score, ran him off third. In the excitement everyone got back to base safely, however. Ripple flied to short left and scored when the throw home was high. Zapp caught the overthrow and attempted to nail Burton at second. He threw wildly with Jones scoring and Burton going to third. Malug then homered to deep center to clean the bases.

Await Drying Out of Salt Flats Before Assaulting 311 M. P. H. Mark

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS. UTAH — A certain doom for the world's land speed record of 311.42 M.P.H. was predicted today by the racing fraternity that frequents this shimmering salt speedway each summer.

The would-be executioners — Captain George E. T. Eyston and John R. Cobb, both Englishmen — hastened grooming of their weapons — one a mechanical monster that looks like an airliner without wings; the other a turtle-like car whose small size belies its power.

Only drying out of dangerous soft spots on the 13-mile straightaway track stands between the Brits and their attempts to smash the record.

Captain Eyston, lank, nerveless king of high speed drivers, is ready with his record-holder, "Thunderbolt" — a 32-foot long, 14,000 pound juggernaut that set the 311.42 M. P. H. mark last November when it was relatively untried.

With slight changes in streamlining and minor mechanical difficulties ironed out during the winter, Eyston predicts 330 M. P. H. Eyston gets the first crack at his record. He's ready to start anytime the course is in shape.

The racing fraternity likes the turtle-shaped car — Cobb's "Railton" — a 10-foot long, 7,000 pound creation.

Both cars have 21 cylinders.

Reason for favoring "Railton" is that Cobb trundled the button-shaped machine onto the flats yesterday and in a trial run made a speed estimated by Cobb 250 M. P. H.

"The run was only for three miles," one salt flats follower said. "What can Cobb's car do when the flats are dry and smooth and he puts the throttle to the floor and has six miles to get up speed before hitting the measured mile?"

That's what the rest of the fraternity — and Eyston — would like to know.

Saints Defeat Brewers, 4 to 2

St. Paul Scores Two Unearned Runs to Capture Series Finale

Milwaukee — Vic Frasier of St. Paul won his tenth straight game and his 13th of the season and Whitlow Wyatt of the Brewers had a nine-game winning streak snapped last night when the Saints captured the series finale, 4 to 2.

Both the winning and fourth runs off Wyatt were unearned.

The Brewers scored twice in the seventh on Ted Gullie's walk, a sacrifice, Rush Hankins' scoring single and Joe Becker's single.

At Kansas City, Ted Williams' home run with the bases loaded helped Minneapolis defeat the Blues 6 to 5 and precipitated a near riot. The homer followed a ruling by Umpire Paul Genshlea that prevented a Blue double play in the sixth inning and left instead, the bases loaded for Williams' smack.

The Blues tied the score at five with three runs in their half of the inning, but Roy Pfeiffer's double in the eighth led to the Millers' winning run.

The Columbus-Louisville game was rained out, while the Indianapolis-Toledo contest had been played at a former date.

Green Bay — Arnold Herber, Green Bay passer, has gained 4,733 yards (almost three miles) on his tosses since 1932. This is almost half again further than Cliff Battles' National league record of 3,398 yards in carrying the ball for the same period.

The Giants of the Playground league defeated the Indians 13 to 4, at the club diamond last Friday. K. Vandehey, on the mound for the losers, walked 13 batters which was mostly responsible for the one sided score. He allowed eight hits and fanned six.

A. Kneepkins pitching for the Giants held the Indians to five hits, walked three and fanned eleven. The winners had their big frame in the fourth when they got eight runs in addition to four they made in the first frame and one added score in the last inning. The Indians made two runs in the first frame and two in the last inning. D. Gaffney of the Giants got a double and a triple in three times up.

New York — Alex Wojciechowiec, Foreham's all-America center of last fall, is working in the sports department of a New York newspaper while waiting for time to report to the Detroit Lions.

Patty Berg Hits Seven Under Par In First Round of Western Meet

Chicago — Red-headed Patty Berg of Minneapolis, who for three successive years finished second to Champion Marion Milley of Lexington, Ky., in the women's western golf derby, is determined to carry off the lead role this time.

She demonstrated as much yesterday with a sizzling seven-under-par 73 in the opening round of the 1938 event at the Butterfield Country club and today held a two-stroke lead as the field teed off for the second 18 of the 72-hole medal play tournament.

Miss Milley rounded the course in an even par 80 and was seven strokes off the pace, tied for fifth with Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City.

In between were Dorothy Traung, San Francisco, and Ellamae Williams, Chicago, with 78's and Edith Estabrook, LaJolla, Calif., with 79.

Beatrice Barrett, Minneapolis, was tied with two Chicagoans at 82, Dorothy Foster, Springfield, Ill., had an 84, while tied at 85's were Goldie Bateson, Milwaukee, and Mrs. J. C. Shorb, South Bend, Ind.

Mrs. Robert I. Bullard, Springfield, Ill., tied with a 91, while Jeanne Cline, Bloomington, Ill., had an even par 80 and was seven strokes off the pace, tied for fifth with Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City.

Hank Greenberg Has Good Chance to Establish New Home Run Mark This Year

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. Associated Sports Writer

If you're convinced that the major league pennant races are practically over, even though there's an important third of the season left, it might be well to look into another of the season's interesting developments — whether big Hank Greenberg has a chance to break Babe Ruth's home run record.

For a while the burly Detroit first sacker was belting out four baggers at a terrific clip, eight of them in six games one week. Then he drew blanks for a week before connecting Sunday for his 38th of the season.

That wallop put Hank 15 games ahead of Ruth's 1937 pace when the Babe set up his all-time mark of 60 homers. Ruth's 38th came Aug. 17th in the 14th game of the season while Sunday's game was No. 99 for the Tigers.

Chances Look Good

Greenberg, of course, is likely to need all that leeway, for Ruth's big push came in September when he smacked 17 homers in 27 games. The setup this year is so much the same that Hank's chances look pretty good.

In 1927, of course, the Yankees were so far ahead that they didn't have to worry when the Babe pulled off a home run whiffing in an effort to such one out of the park. The Tigers now are down in fifth place and there's not much their new manager, Del Baker, could do but haul them up into the first division. So they're not deeply concerned over the odd strikeout.

Then Hank, too, has a long stretch on the home grounds in September. Of Detroit's 55 remaining games, 27 are to be played at home and 28 away. And from just after Labor day until almost the end of the season they'll be playing in Briggs stadium. So far Greenberg has connected 24 times there and 14 in other parks.

Game Rained Out

Hank takes his mace to Chicago, today as the clubs of both leagues begin a round of their own seasons after calling a truce in the east-west warfare that boosted the Yankees and Pirates to high. Yesterday's only game, between the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns, was rained out in the second inning.

While they knocked off their closest enemies, the Indians and Giants, respectively, to gain their comfortable leads, the Yanks and Pirates can't afford to let up yet. The New Yorkers have to face such tough rivals as the Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators while the Tribe can ease off against second division clubs. Likewise Pittsburgh's main threats now may be the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds, tied for third, while the Giants try to recover against the Phillies, Bees and Dodgers.

Cycle Riders To Show Aug. 28

A tourist trophy race, motorcycle riding's toughest stunt, will be sponsored by the Appleton Motorcycle club for Sunday, Aug. 28, on the O'Connor property, a quarter mile west of Butte des Morts golf club. The event has the sanction of the American Motorcycle association and the prize list will be at least $75 in cash with a trophy as extra incentive.

There will be seven events during the afternoon. The races will feature sharp turns, rough spots, uphill and downhill driving and straightaways.

Invitations have been sent to all motorcycle clubs in the state to enter their best talent. Any rider with an A.M.A. card will be eligible. Appleton will be represented by a half dozen or more speedsters.

Kimberly, Kaw Teams to Meet

Kimberly — Cliff Kemp, playground director at Kaukauna, will bring his trouper to Kimberly Friday for an all-day field meet. The program will open at 9:15 in the morning when the Kimberly and Kaukauna midsize teams tie in a softball game. At 10:30 the visiting juniors will meet the Kimberly juniors in softball.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the older boys of Kaukauna and Kimberly will play softball and at 3:45 the featured game will be staged when the older boys again show in a baseball game. The boys also will play in a horseshoe tournament in the afternoon.

The Giants of the Playground league defeated the Indians 13 to 4, at the club diamond last Friday. K. Vandehey, on the mound for the losers, walked 13 batters which was mostly responsible for the one sided score. He allowed eight hits and fanned six.

A. Kneepkins pitching for the Giants held the Indians to five hits, walked three and fanned eleven. Kipke, McMillin Far Ahead in Poll Of All-Star Pilots

Chicago — (U) — The position of head man on the coaching staff of five which will guide the College All-Star football team against the professional Washington Redskins Aug. 31 appeared today to rest between Harry Kipke, former Michigan coach, and Bo McMillin of Indiana.

The nationwide poll closed Sunday and final tabulations will not be announced until tomorrow night. However, latest available figures before the deadline showed Kipke and McMillin far ahead, with Ray Bond of Yale and Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, virtually assured assistant roles. Fifth place lay between A. J. Robertson, Bradley Tech, and Lynn Waldorf, Northwestern.

The vote: Kipke, 14,553,236 points; McMillin, 13,658,166; Bond, 7,651,580; Layden, 5,894,220; Robertson, 2,349,732; Waldorf, 2,651,828.

Heavy Scoring Is Feature of Mill Softball

Machineroom and Woodroom Teams Winners in Monday's Play

Kimberly — The Machineroom softballers of the Kimberly Mill league walloped the Powers, 25 to 13, at the ball park Monday afternoon. At six o'clock the Woodroom department won over the Sulphite, 10 to 5, before a large crowd.

The 4 o'clock contest between the Power and Machines turned out to be a hit and run game as both batted around in the first frame giving the lead off man a chance to bat twice in the first inning.

Hits and scores were made at such a rapid speed that it was necessary for the scorer to re-number the innings in his book as two columns were necessary for a frame. The Powers were leading in the first inning 7 to 6 but soon fell behind as the next frame had the Machines making 12 runs.

Any amount of home runs were made by both teams. For the Powers, Cashman, Van Rysin, and Gloumdemans sent the ball for a long ride. Joe Gossens of the Machines hit two homers in a row.

The Sulphite department, which is holding its own pretty well in the league, was defeated by the Woodroom, 10 to 5, in the second tilt. Wurdinger, on the mound for the winners, allowed the Sulphite 11 hits fanned 4 and walked none. Widenberg pitching for the losers, struck out 12 men, walked 9 and allowed 7 hits. Home runs were made by Albers and Monte of the Woodroom and J. De Leuw of the Sulphite.

Four o'clock Wednesday afternoon the Woodyard and Research will play and at six o'clock Maintenance and Office will clash.

Students at New London Prepare for Opening of Colleges, Universities

New London—With the opening of college only a month away, thoughts of the younger generation are shifting from tennis, golf and acquiring a beautiful tan to fraternity rushings, class schedules and acquiring a collegiate wardrobe. Many New London students will enroll at this fall various colleges in the state.

Returning to Mount Mary college in September will be Miss Maxine Knapstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Knapstein, 521 Buck street. Miss Dorothy Dernbach plans to continue her work at Marquette university, Milwaukee, where she is studying to be a laboratory technician. She is the daughter of P. J. Dernbach, 303 Shawano street.

Karl Hammerberg, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Hammerberg, 217 Waupaca street, will return to Michigan State college at East Lansing.

Goes to Jail for Drunken Driving

Bear Creek Driver Fails to Pay $100 Fine: Will Serve 90 Days

New London—Joe Lorge, 60, Bear Creek, pleaded guilty Monday morning in police justice court to a charge of drunken driving and was committed to the county jail at Waupaca for 90 days by Fred J. Rogers, police justice when he failed to pay a $100 fine. Lorge was arrested Sunday on N. Water street by Harry Macklin, chief of police.

Lorge also was held under the state law on the same charge and was fined $50 and costs. Upon payment of the costs the fine was remitted but the man's driver's license was revoked for six months.

New London Knights to Join in Resort Outing

New London—The local council of the Knights of Columbus will be represented at the eighth annual Central Wisconsin picnic which will be held Sunday at Silver Lake resort near Wild Rose. The feature of the picnic will be the softball tournament for which a trophy is awarded to the winning team. Entertainment will also be provided for the women and children during the afternoon. George Ross will make arrangements for the local council.

Youngster Injured in Fall From Moving Car

New London—Colin Maul, 2-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Maul, Clintonville, suffered multiple bruises and abrasions on his arms, legs, head and face when he opened the back door of the car in which he was riding with his parents to New London and flew out. No bones were broken. The Maul family was on its way here to attend a family reunion at the old Knapstein home, 435 E. Cook street.

New London Office

The news department of the Appleton Post-Crescent is represented in New London this week and next by Mrs. Charles Pfeifer at 526 Wyman street. Her telephone number is 326. Orders for subscriptions may be left at 103 E. Cook street or telephoned by calling 18. Papers missed by carriers will be delivered if complaint is made at 18 before 7 p. m.

New London—The strong Bordens club spotted the Gamble team a 3-0 lead Monday evening in a game at the Washington high school park and went on to win 7 to 3, retaining first place standing in the Industrial league.

Leonard Hoffman, besides pitching four hit ball, went against the rules of a pitcher and led his team at bat with four hits in four trips to the plate, two of them for extra bases. Although he led his team at the plate it remained for Red Barlow to break up a 3 to 3 tie with a home run in the fifth inning from where the Bordens team chalked up two more runs and another victory.

Ullrich, the hurler for Gambles, allowed 12 hits, but was very effective in the punches by not allowing a run in the first three innings and not more than three runs in any one inning. He was nipped for two runs in the fourth, three in the fifth and two more in the sixth.

Dayton handled the catching duties for Hoffman and Platte for Ullrich.

my heart to believe you—if I didn't know what a black-bellied snake you really are. Throw that gun in the water!"

Longed-For Chance
Like one in a trance, Bandera mechanically lifted the heavy pistol from his holster, drew back his arm for the toss. Lee recognized the danger even as Heffle realized that here was his longed-for chance. As the Mexican's weapon struck the water with splash, Heffle's rifle leaped to his shoulder—his finger curled against the trigger.

Yet fast as the sheepman was, Ankrom's move was swifter. His eye must have caught the tag-end of Heffle's upward sweep with the rifle. Even as the shot cracked out the Rafter T foreman dropped and whirled. Red flame licked from his hip. Heffle clutched at his chest and went reeling out of sight within the cabin.

"Come on, you back-shootin' polecats! If it's fight you're honin' for I'll give you a fracas to remember!"

Several of the men had gotten their guns. A rifle cracked and hurled a whistling streak above him. Ankrom fired from the hip and grinned maliciously as the rifleman staggered backward. With a side leap another of Heffle's gun-slicks got himself a weapon and whipped it up. It spat—and so did Ankrom's! Lee saw sand jump at Ankrom's feet, spill down across his boots. She saw Ankrom's lead smash the luckless pistol-bender back and down—saw him drop to hands and knees and sway there.

Lee was terribly shaken, yet pride and elation had snapped glowing spots of color to her cheeks and the blood was pounding through her arteries at a heady gait. The thought came to her that she should fear this man. But she didn't—she was glad and proud.

This man was Rafter T's foreman! Smoke hung thick about his crouching figure. Abruptly the fight was over—killed as swift as was its birth. Heffle's men dropped weapons, as though they burnt their palms; thrust shaking hands in hurry above their heads. As he straightened, Lee saw that there was blood on Ankrom's neck where a close-placed slug had torn his ear. He seemed unconscious of the wound.

"If you skunks have got enough, back away from them guns! If you're wantin' more, reach for one of them rifles an' I'll give you all you can handle!"

Angry, sullen, cursing, the men moved away from their weapons, stood clear of the rifles placed against the cabin wall. "This," he told them curtly, "is Rafter T property. From here on out trespassers will be shot on sight. Now make dust!"

When the men were ready to go, one man looking down from the saddle said, "We won't be forgettin' thees, senot." Lee recognized the Mexican, Bandera.

Ankrom laughed. "Save your breath to blow your beans," he advised, and tipped his hat deservingly.
